Dr. Alan D. Miller, professor of English at Rice Institute, delivered the inaugural address Thursday evening on the occasion of the 85th anniversary of the great Latin class, Yost, held at the Alumni House, honorary society of Rice University.

Dr. Miller spoke as a representative of the Phi Beta Kappa, which has selected the Yost class for these events. The occasion marked the first in a series of programs planned by the faculty and students to commemorate the 85th anniversary of the class.

In his address, Dr. Miller discussed the history and significance of Phi Beta Kappa, emphasizing the importance of the organization in promoting academic excellence and fostering a spirit of intellectual inquiry. He highlighted the contributions of the Yost class to the University and society, and concluded with a call for continued support and involvement in the academic community.

The event was attended by faculty, students, and members of the Phi Beta Kappa, and was followed by a reception and dinner. The evening was a significant milestone for the University, marking a celebration of the Yost class's achievements and honoring the legacy of excellence in scholarship and leadership.

H. W. Wilson, editor of the Rice, said Wednesday, "We are pleased to announce the selection of B. Reynolds, chairman, Russell, Jack Galloway, chairman, How Green, Brenda Stuart, chairman, Robert Thigpen, chairman, and William Van Dyke, chairman, as the members of the University of Texas chapter of Phi Lambda Upsilon."

The University of Texas chapter of Phi Lambda Upsilon will be held. The event will be attended by the University of Texas chapter of Phi Lambda Upsilon and other distinguished guests.
