Hand Reid Is Elected Queen For Rice's 1931 May Festival

Today at 1 P.M. in the physics amphitheater, Queen of the Rice, Head of the House of Reid, and the two houses of the May Fair, Virginia Reed and Roswell McWhirter, will be introduced to the campus in the yearly queen contest. The contest will be followed by heavy voting on the part of the students who elected to support their candidates in the race for May Fair. Miss Reid represents the house of Reid, while Miss McWhirter is the candidate for May Fair. Both candidates have the support of student leaders, and the competition is expected to be a close one.

A surprise feature of the meeting will be the introduction of the Rice men's basketball team, which will be accompanied by G. W. Stevens, team manager, and K. W. Nix, team captain. Following the announcement of the results of the election, the crowd will be invited to stay for a dance in the Administration Building. The dance will be preceded by the presentation of a trophy to the winning house. The winning house will be the one that has the highest cumulative average of its members for the entire year.

Rice's student government, the Student Council, has been working on the plans for the May Festival. This year's theme is "The Romance of Life," and the event is expected to be a grand spectacle for the campus.

Announcement of the meeting was made by the Student Council and the Rice Athletic Council. The meeting will be held in the Administration Building at 1 P.M. and will be followed by a dance in the same building.

The regular weekly meeting of the Rice Institute Writing Club was held at the University Club. Prior to the death of Mr. David Williams, the club writer, the Rice Institute Writing Club of the English department gave winter reviews. Stories were read by Bianca de la Garza, Melia Oliver, and Joel H. Few, who read a very interesting piece, a parody of the "Canterbury Tales." For the sake of the Rice Institute Writing club and vice versa, which is being published by the Southwest Press of Dallas, published the title "Charter-House Suit." Many prominent Texans have expressed interest in the work which has been received at our office of the Rice Institute Writing Club.

A number of Jews consider culture a large and influential part of the Hebrew tradition, a sort of "dialect" that is not necessarily shared among the Jewish youth. The tradition is, in fact, a way of life for many who are part of the community, but there are some who see it as an obstacle to disorder and modernity.

Among this group are Bernard Klein, a student and president of the club, who says, "I think that the Hebrew tradition is a way of life for many who are part of the community, but there are some who see it as an obstacle to disorder and modernity.
