Student Publications Have Colorful Histories

THRASHER NO. 1

Appeared On
Jan. 15, 1916

The first official student publication, the newspaper, appeared in Rice College on January 15, 1916. It was named The Thresher, after the steam shovel that is a symbol of the university's progress. The newspaper was started by students and its first issue was published by hand. The Thresher was a bi-weekly publication, and its contents included sports news, local events, and campus news.

ACHIEVEMENT

Within the first two weeks, the Thresher achieved all major achievements of the 1912-13 editions, including nine class columns. The first issue of the Thresher was a success, and it quickly became the most read publication on campus.

Annual First Published by Senior Classes

Rice's first senior class, that of 1884, arranged for the publishing of the first Campus yearbook.

The first volume was released in October 1884. It contained pictures and pictures of the life around campus.

JOKE MIRTHS OF THE OWL AND ITS MANAGER

First Published Special Edition

On October 25, 1920, the first special edition of The Thresher was published. It contained jokes and humorous stories, and it was the first time that a special edition of the newspaper was published.

COMIC BOOK WAS PROPOSED OCTOBER, 1920

A comic magazine was first planned for Rice in October, 1920. It was during the third term of the 1921 school year, and the magazine was intended to be a source of entertainment for students in between classes. However, the magazine was never published.

In October, 1920, the students formed a club in R.W. Woodhouse's office, and the club was intended to be a source of entertainment for students. However, the club was never active, and the club was never able to publish the magazine.
12 Sandlotters On Trip Seek To Win Top Post

Twelve Rice Owls and Coach Johnny Sawyers left Thursday night for the Houston area to take part in the Conference basketball championship.

Mr. Sawyers said that Rice would probably play the Aggies and if the Owls win, they would meet the Cardinals in the final on Sunday.

The Owls were one of the teams that joined the Conference and continued to play the old championship system in which all teams played each other twice.

A large crowd was on hand to see the Owls beat the Aggies 62-58. The Owls were back to their winning ways and had a chance to finish the season with a title.

ON OTHER CAMPUSES

CAMPUS POLITICS

It seems particularly fitting, now that the season has ended, to remember that old tradition of campus politics, especially as it is related to the election of the Class President.

The Class President is chosen by the students of the Class and serves one academic year. The position is non-partisan and is held in high esteem by the students.

The Class President is responsible for organizing class events, representing the Class in official capacities, and serving as a liaison between the Class and the University.

The Class President is also involved in the selection of the next Class President, as well as other Class officers.

The position of Class President is one of the most prestigious and important positions on campus.
