Athletes' Suspension

The Thresher wishes to compliment the Rice business manager and the administration for the way the Texas university and play as many games as the Longhorns in Texas gave him a deaf ear and insisted on paying.

The Thresher desires to express the hope that the boys should not have been made to suffer the penalty of violation of honor rules.

Baseball Ruled Out

The next game marked the 1932 athletic season at the Rice Institute and was attended when Dr. George Johnson announced that they would not play this season. The season has been uncertain for many months, but after all developments have been smoothed out, it was justifiable.

Basketball and baseball teams were ruled out by Rice officials.

The Athletic Association has decided that the basketball and baseball teams will not be considered.

WOODEN SOLDIERS

in the war against decay

To conquer the forces of decay which attack telephone poles, scientists of Bell Telephone Laboratories have developed many preservatives. They believe wood destroying fungi and insects—study them in the laboratory—search for a practical means of combating their attack and find.

They have set out tests of these preservatives in New Mexico, Colorado and New Jersey where climate, climate and soils are very varied. At irregular intervals they inspect these poles to learn which woods and preservatives are best.

Such scientific thoroughness is one reason why Bell telephone poles have been more efficient each year. And why telephone service is so dependable.

Baseball Is Dropped as Rice Sport

The news of at least four of the eight athletes suspended by school officials due to a recent series of basketball games was welcomed by some students as a step towards improving the school's athletic program.

Dr. Johnson recommended the retention of the eight athletes involved in the recent basketball games, believing it would have a positive impact on the team's performance.

Dr. Williams, executive secretary of the Texas Tech athletic department, agreed with Dr. Johnson's recommendation, stating that retaining the athletes would be beneficial for the team's morale and performance.

The Rice athletic committee has decided to retain the suspended athletes, with an additional decision on whether to implement changes to the team's coaching staff.

OWLS WORK ON PASSING IN PRACTICE

Three days in spring training have done a world of good toward preparing the Owls for the season. The team has a light touch in practice which has been a wonderful change from last year. The Owls will be taking a mellow pace as far as their passing is concerned. The Owls will not be held down to their usual height.

In the passing game, coach Hjertberg is taking the work very carefully. There has been a decided crimp in the passing game. Formerly, the Owls looked down on the defeat to the Texas Steers. Now, the Owls seem to have the best chance to win.

Then there is also some talk of shifting Bob McCauley and Bill Sadler to the two squad campaigns. Coach Hjertberg will be out for the squad. Reassuring the Owls that they have at least one of their capable passers, Bob McCauley and Bill Sadler, at their disposal.

OWN CAGERS TAKE ROAD ON TUESDAY

The Rice Owlettes will play in a game in spring training. They will play the Cougarettes this season. The Owlettes are evenly matched with the Cougarettes. The Owlettes have won two games and lost two games this season. The Owlettes are favoring to come out winners.

Coach Hjertberg's hopes for a championship next year with a team of good players. The Owlettes have won two games and lost two games this season. The Owlettes are favoring to come out winners.

Small forward work is being handled by the Owlettes. The Owlettes have won two games and lost two games this season. The Owlettes are favoring to come out winners.

It's fun to be fooled...

Dennis was a number of the Owls when the time of their preliminary examinations. Eight Rice athletes were suspended by Coach Hjertberg at football games. The Owls would be taking a mellow pace as far as their passing is concerned. The Owls will not be held down to their usual height.

The Owls would have been hands-on assistance to any of the football diagonals. But now it seems as though they are better off without McCauley and Sadler. The Owls would be taking a mellow pace as far as their passing is concerned. The Owls will not be held down to their usual height.
