Homecomers May See Owls Win Flag

Rice Team Plays Last Home Game Against Dangerous Snappy New Texas Christian Eleven Band Outfits

Horned Frogs Lose as Last Team Capable of Upsetting Days Before Start of Unblemished First Undated Season.

Welcome Grads

The Theatricals join the student body to welcome the greatest number of Owls that there has ever been. We are happy that we are here when this momentous occasion, coupled with one of the greatest football teams in the country, has so great a spirit in making Homecoming at Rice a real thing, in which every graduate can look forward to with the realization that it is growing more popular every year and that it provides the one opportunity for old students to meet their former colleagues.

Much credit for this exceptional turnout of Homecomers must go to Jimmie Kitts and his boys. We realize that success on the football field generally insures success in the grandstand but we do hope that the graduates will not feel that successful athletic endeavors are the only factors that can win back to the Alma Mater. There are other things which in the span of years of playing might be more important.

The Owls' football team is one of the most enjoyable of the year. Rice, in 1934, has had a regular Saturday action. Rice will win. Rice will win.

Whose Will Think It?

An American University psychologist is attempting to find that sort of student who expresses himself with the subject favor an "ideal" college, an "ideal" campus, and an "ideal" course of study.

But in the past few weeks, a new trend has emerged. When the "ideal" generation learns that " Collegiate" men went out and "idealized" a college with a few things more boring than an old-fashioned "ghastly" party.

The dependence apparently has made little difference in undergraduate political methods, if the situation at the University of Florida is any criterion. Twenty of such schools were polled, and they would be entitled president of the freshman class, it was reported.

And speaking of politics, their findings are not only interesting but also embarrassing. Two Harvard professors found that a chimpanzee, after being given a special intelligence test, was more intelligent than two children of five years of age.

There might be other columns. Of course, I have already suggested what I think would be of immediate utility value. Now, students know they face a difference in undergraduate political methods, if the situation at the University of Florida is any criterion. Then 39 such schools were polled, and they would be entitled president of the freshman class, it was reported.

I have always thought it would be interesting if half-the students could study their hobbies during their spare time, and put their intelligence together in a "THESE" column every week. The students, as well as the faculty members could probably get off half-days a week.

The Wellman Process
does this...
...it gives the tobacco an extra flavor and aroma

In the manufacture of Granger Houghton Cut Pipe Tobacco the Wellman Process is used.

The Wellman Process is different from any other process or method and we believe it gives more enjoyment to pipe smokers:
...it gives the tobacco an extra flavor and aroma
...it makes the tobacco cut right into the pipe—hence no dust or ashes
...it makes the tobacco milder
...safer to smoke...cures a dry or wet cough
...it gives the tobacco a smooth draw
...it gives the tobacco a smoke that is easy on the throat

T.C.U. Students Will Arrive At One-on-three

Texas Christian students and other supporters will arrive on Thursday morning at the hotel that has been designated as the special training center for game week. The hotel, located near campus, is being used to accommodate the large number of visitors expected for the game and to provide a central location for the various activities planned for the week.

On Friday afternoon at 1:00 PM, the students will depart aboard the special train and give the Rice Owls a rousing send off at the Kirby Theatre. At 8:15 PM, the Owls will play the funeral of Jinx, a football player who has been a prominent member of the team and its backers. At 9:15 PM, Rice Owls will play the funeral service in the Kirby Theatre.
