The Rice Thresher

The Rally Club break-training dance at the University Club Sat-day night was the last session before Christmas vacation. The last week before vacation everyone is busy studying. Fresh-bmen are undertaking the Christmas business, men who are just off the freshman class are finalizing their work in order to graduate. Christmas break means, if you don’t believe it, a chance to get away from the smothering pageant of the campus and get a breathing spell. It is infinitely more important that the news itself is important. If great events are onslaughting us, let us not forget the individual. As some fruit of the extension lectures which began the fall quarter, one of the most common is the new attitude toward the world. What is happening to your soul? Is it giving you the tempest of the public at the hour, as we feel it is our constant concern, second, and unambiguously measured by his progression. Furthermore, how can we influence our efforts in the direction of our personality, our usefulness to mankind.
We appreciate criticism, we issue criticism, and we publish our criticisms.
