Abigail Adams: "I Write This in My Own Sincere"
Education Is a Funny Thing

A lot of people feel that education is a funny thing. Universities and colleges have joined the ranks of Century City, who must confess, "We want more customers."

"Surprisingly enough, we have a steady line of students who want to learn about Communism, Socialism and Fascism," said the Professor of the Department of Political Science. "We want to enjoy the lights of free press, speech, and thought."

Of course, the university is not the only place where free speech and thought are enjoyed. Many newspapers, magazines, and even individual schools, have their own "free speech" policies. In fact, the entire country is a giant free speech laboratory, with the government taking a very active role in the experiments. The result is that the country is a much more informed and educated society than it was before. So, when someone says that education is a funny thing, it is not so surprising after all.
Basketball Team Starts Season By Turning In Six Easy Cage Victories

BY R. B. MUNCH

Coach Richard's New Owl basketball season opened Saturday night with a 39-19 rout of Texas A. & I. in the third game of the six-game contest at the Memorial Gym with a light but extremely fast team that has broken the record for the season.

Cactus, who was expected to repeat their superiority last year, met the Owls for the first time in the series, but the Owls have shown in the past three games that they are not a team to be taken lightly.

Tom Moore, who has been in the series for the past two years, said the Owls are better than last year, and he expected them to hold their own against the Cactus.

A real cannonade broke through the Cactus defense, and it was more than a question of strategy. The Owls turned back the Bear's assault with a bang as they swept through the six games to score a total of 132 points, with a light but extremely fast team that has broken the record for the season.

Conrad's Book Is Reviewed

Gladys Marie Dewing reviewed William of the Barony by Joseph Conrad at the last meeting of the B. A. L. for the year. She emphasized Conrad's considerable power, claiming as sole choice for the book, the effect it had on the price of a book, and the consummation charged brought home to them in that relation to each other. An extensive charity program is being planned for Christmas, with particular reference to the many children who have been affected by the recent war.
