Alumni To Endow New Building To Be Used By Rice

HOMECOMING OF THE A. R. A.

We are looking forward to the approaching Seventeenth Homecoming of the A. R. A. with hearty anticipations. It will be the first under our new constitution, and we hope to meet many friends, graduate and former students of the first institute and the present students. No attempt will be made to rival the medical department in the number of '39s who will be present, but we think we can have a group of '39s that will be as handsome and athletic as any in the nation.

Almost three weeks ago, the Thresher was the proud holder-of-adoption of the sports report and, to a certain extent, the unsolved problem of the college won of all those students of sport and sports writers and reports.

The brilliant but modest young students were appreciated, and it is a common place to say that the Thresher is a dead game.

Owls Hear Review of "Gone With the Wind" at Meeting

Margaret Mitchell's novel, "Gone With the Wind," was reviewed by Mary J. F. C. Tallman at the recent meeting of the Rice Library Society. Miss Tallman was assisted by her husband, Dr. W. P. C. Tallman, who is a professor of English at Rice.

Four Owls selected for membership in the society were chosen from the following list: Miss Tallman, Miss Tallman, Miss Tallman, and Miss Tallman.

Rice Owls Will Attempt to Break Horned Frogs Jinx

Owls Point Toward First Conference Victory Over TCU

Coach Jimmy King's Rice Owls will have the feel Sunday with a "do or die" determination to end the Horned Frogs' record of 22 straight victories. Rice will make its bid for conference lead and a top four position today.

The Owls have been idle since last Saturday when they beat Texas at Austin, 17-7. The Rice defense has been strong, allowing just 74 points in the last two games.

The Horned Frogs, on the other hand, have allowed only 28 points in their last three games, but have been held to single-digit scores in two of those three contests.

The Owls will attempt to break the Frogs' jinx and make a statement in the conference.

All the color and excitement of life in the great lumber camps of the north woods is brought to the screen in "North of the Woods" and Frances Farmer plays both Lotta's son's youth and his daughter and finds all his money and his wealth and power when, years later, lie meets his old flame, the ambitious chore boy who became a great lumber baron.

In view of the fact that the forests of Michigan are still being cut from generation to generation, it is not surprising that we do not live to see complete harmony.
