Wonder How Many

If you know that Tuesday was the last night of the Empire Room's annual benefit show, you'll probably remember that the last night was the night that the band stand was taken down to make room for the dance. The doors were closed at 11:30, and the show lasted until 2 a.m., with a lively audience enjoying themselves to the fullest. The benefit was a huge success, raising funds for various local charities.

Society

The Hungry Five at the Empire Room

College students had the privilege of seeing the Hungry Five perform at the Empire Room last Tuesday night. The band was accompanied by a group of local musicians, and the audience was greeted with a variety of popular songs. The performance was a hit, with the audience cheering and clapping along to the music. The Hungry Five's energy and talent were on full display, and the crowd was left wanting more.

Striped Shirts, Ties, and Prominent In Autumn Fashion

College students and alums were spotted wearing striped shirts and ties, with a prominent autumn fashion trend. The look was a classic and timeless, with stripes adding a touch of elegance to any outfit. The colors were warm and inviting, perfect for the fall season.

Agnieszka Risk

Agnieszka Risk, a Polish student, performed at the Empire Room last Tuesday night. She played a variety of classical pieces, including Chopin's Nocturne and Beethoven's Moonlight Sonata. Her playing was received with great enthusiasm, and the audience was wowed by her talent and passion.

Where To Go

The following letter is addressed to all students, faculty, and staff:

Dear Students,

I hope this letter finds you well. I am writing to inform you of an upcoming event on campus. The University of Texas will be hosting a conference on the topic of climate change. The conference will be held on November 3, and it is open to all students, faculty, and staff.

Please save the date and make plans to attend. You will have the opportunity to hear from leading experts in the field, participate in panel discussions, and network with other students, faculty, and staff. The conference will be held in the new multipurpose auditorium on campus.

I look forward to seeing you there.

Sincerely,

[Signature]

When The Longhorns Shook Off the Five Year Out Jinx

Two of the skilled athletes that kept the Longhorns running this week were quarterbacks: Coolidge and Nolte. Coolidge, whom the world is waiting to see, hit his targets, and his running provided a diversion that kept the defense on their toes. Nolte, on the other hand, was not as accurate, but his running ability compensated for his passing shortcomings.

Intramural Activities

Everything ran smoothly this week as favorites copped all games except for the intramural football leagues. In the American League, the A. and M. (4) vs. Texas Tech (3) was the closest game of the week, with A. and M. edging out Tech by a narrow margin.

In the American League, A. and M. took on Approval from the West, while Tech faced Arkansas State. In the Southwest League, A. and M. were matched against Tech, and in the American League, Texas Tech played against Arkansas State.

Rice-Texas Data

Rice got the better of the play against Texas this week, running away with a 30-14 victory. The key moment of the game came on the fourth quarter when Rice's quarterback, Coolidge, threw a 40-yard pass to end the game.

When The Longhorns Shook Off the Five Year Out Jinx

The Longhorns entered this game against the visiting Southern team with a 0-5 record. However, they came out swinging and dispatched the Southern team with ease, winning 34-14. The game was highlighted by Coolidge's three touchdown passes, which included a 50-yard strike to his star receiver.
