Austin, Texas, May 17—Jack Benny, doing a special radio broadcast for the first time among college and university students of the nation, will be heard by the student audience of Austin North Presbyterian Church of America on May 27th, in front of a pay audience. Benny has not been heard in Texas for some time, and the students are looking forward to his appearance. The broadcast will be heard in the church's own theater, and will be available for a nominal charge.

The broadcast is sponsored by various college organizations, and will include a variety of musical numbers, comedy routines, and a special appearance by Benny himself. The broadcast is expected to be a hit with the students, and will be a welcome addition to their weekly entertainment schedule.

Benny's appearance in Austin is part of a larger tour, which has taken him to cities across the country. The tour has been well received, and has attracted a large following. The students are excited to be a part of this exclusive event, and are looking forward to a memorable evening of music and laughter.

In other news, the University of Texas has announced plans to build a new dormitory, which will be the largest in the state. The dormitory will be located on the university's main campus, and will accommodate 5,000 students. The university is expected to break ground on the project later this year, and construction is estimated to take two years.

The dormitory will feature state-of-the-art facilities, including a full-sized gymnasium, a lecture hall, and a library. The dormitory will also have a dining hall, which will serve three meals a day.

The university has already received a $20 million donation from an anonymous donor, which will help fund the project. The remaining funds will come from state and federal grants.

The university's president, Dr. John Smith, said, "This is a major milestone for the university, and we are grateful to the donor for their generosity. The new dormitory will be a major addition to the university, and will help to meet the growing demand for student housing."

Get your ARROW SHIRTS

An Oxford Education for $2

A plain white shirt is distinguished by a basket-weave effect on a small section of the collar, a so-called "cuff" detail made possible by a "hot" new fabric. The points on this collar are one buttoned to reflect an expanded effect at the top knot. A great favorite for wear with ties and sports clothing. Make sure it's an Arrow, the nation's sundry-style Shamrock with fabric stripe below the point. In white or colors. $1.50.
