Co-operation

Rally Club men ordering the student section at football games are often confronted with an embarrassing situation through the negligence of parents or other students. A father or mother appears regularly in the stands aiming to find his son and then disappears to find his daughter. With them is now a son or daughter amid the snarled mass of flesh and faces.

The parent allows a blanket box and ticket of admission to a foreign section, requiring no student identification, and proceeds at once to the other end of the stadium to order the seats of his or her child. He or she is often able to direct a student to his or her seat, for he or she is allowed to sit with his or her students in order to be with the offspring. If the father or mother has been in the habit of attending certain offical dances, he or she knows how to keep the student dress code and how to select dancing partners for his or her offspring. Besides, the student who wants a pen pal is well advised to ask his or her parent for help.

Give the usher a fair chance by purchasing a ticket of admission if you want to attend games with your parents. The student section will hereby assist the student body as it is.

Academies, Engineers Run for Political Control

Bri Mallon and Bob Anderson, football stars, will lead Texas Tech against Lamar at 8 tonight. Both players have been named to the All-Southwest Conference team for the 1938 season. When the teams faced each other last year, Texas Tech won easily, 13-0. The Red Raiders are expected to take the game by a larger margin this year. Bob Anderson, who has been named to the All-Southwest Conference team, will lead the Tech offense. Lamar, on the other hand, is expected to rely on the defense to win the game. Lamar, under the leadership of quarterback John Gray, is expected to put up a good fight, but it is doubtful that they will be able to overcome the superior Texas Tech team. The game is expected to be highly competitive, and both teams are expected to put up a good show. The outcome of the game is difficult to predict, but it is likely that Texas Tech will emerge as the winner.
