In order to help the United News' paper "Scrap Drive" in this city, the Architectural Society is sponsoring the largest scrap metal heap here at the Institute. It is hoped that in doing so not only will they be able to donate an amount of old metal here, but that students as well will encourage through their possessions and contributions to the drive.

John Ward, president of the Architectural Society, who, with the aid of Mr. William Ward Watkins, in charge of the campaign, said that all the metal collected would be donated to the Office of Civilian Defense.

According to the drive chairman, the amount of the four tons of scrap collected so far has come from the basements of the Institute, from around the power plant, and in the form of window weights from the carpenter shop. In addition to these sources, the Chemistry department has donated a considerable amount of tin and the architectural department has "encouraged" the freshmen residents to get into the drive.

In addition to the estimated tons of scrap to be collected from around the school, it is hoped that the students will be able to donate an amount to the heap located near the chemistry building and identified by the large, orange sign. The drive is expected to be in full swing by October 21.

Prehn Reports Dance Success

In his report Prehn stated that an increase in both attendance and net profit that hovered around the original $50 considered. Net income of the dance was well above previous affairs held at Arabia Temple, he said.

Prehn dance committee plans to hold the last two weeks in preparation for the Rice-Texas dance, which will be held on October 24 at the Houston Club.

The Pre-Law Society in its regular weekly meeting Tuesday night heard speeches from Thomas C. Dunn and Quinby Courtney, and members of the junior class. According to the drive chairman, the amount of the four tons of scrap collected so far has come from the basements of the Institute, from around the power plant, and in the form of window weights from the carpenter shop. Council moved and passed a resolution to extend written invitations to Institute professors to the All School Picnic, which is scheduled for October 12 as the date for the traditional "picnic day." Student representatives are to be sent out under the auspices of the Women's Council, Laura Peden being the chairman.

An improved and revised constitution for the society is being prepared by Omer Cadwallader. The principal idea for reorganization, the constitution, Cadwallader explained, is to be "in favor" of representation of sophomore and junior men in the council.

The subjects of the speeches varied in many of the nation's national war economy, and the dangerous of inflation and the effects among the lower-income brackets.

Navy Club Names New Officers

The Naval Club of the NROTC unit announced Monday election of Jack Simms president of the group. Other officers announced Calvin Baker, first vice president; Roy Simpson, treasurer; Bob Nielson, secretary, and Frank Brooks, third vice president.

A fourth class representative will be elected Monday evening. The meeting will be held October 19.

The organization for the group has been and will continue to be of an expressive, nature, designed primarily to serve each man better for the service.
When a country is at war, the idea of music, as well as the idea of art, seems less than fitting. But if we are to consider who are the artists, a search will throw any light on this mystery, Pat Tracyman: "...swastika Fan—Doughty's usual way to return address The Wellness Com- pany—what about this, Dorenda? ... "Sweetie Face" the country has ever known, took time out to appropriate funds for the restoration of the home of the Count Teutonic, destroyed by the Nazis. As long as music is not carried to the point of actually jeopardizing the war effort, and provision and satisfaction it will offer us will more than repay for the effort it causes us. The country is calling for an in- singing song as much as for the service of war. One without the other might just as well quit, for if in great causes was ever with- out them both.

How YOU can help her speed vital war calls

When you've got to telephone, remember that the wires—especially Long Distance circuits—are the busiest than ever before, with war calls. We can't build new equipment to carry the load because the materials we need are going into ships and planes and shells.

Here's how you can help to keep the lines open for war calls. Unless your message is really urgent, please don't use Long Distance servce. But if you must, please make your calls as short as you can.

At the office, and good luck!

Rally Club II

Openers 1-0-6

Sizzling in the last two minutes of play on a pass to Perry Martin, the Slickerattack opened the touch football season Tuesday afternoon by turning back the Rally Club II defense 6-0. Martin knocked the ball from Wallace Sheawins and continued the drive into the field to score the only marker of the game.

The game proved to be a very close early season contest, with the Rally Club coming out on top in the first half. Late in the game a Rally Club fumble gave the Slickers a chance to score but Martin bobbled the ball and the Slickers were forced to kick the field goal.

The victory over the Rally Club will give the Slickers a 3-0 record on the season and the Rally Club a 2-1 record. With the last two games tied 6-6 and 6-6, the Slickers now lead the Rally Club by a point in the Southwestern Conference.

The Feathered Flock

The feathered flock will invade the Crescent City Saturday and try to repeat last year's stirring victory over the Crimson Tide. With a victory which almost crippled the squad for the rest of the season. Fresh from a confidence-giving win over the favored LSU Tigers, the Owls are only at top shape. The only man expected to miss the Tulane tilt is Captain Bob Tresch.

The in-and-out Greens have the mysterious record of deflecting a supposedly strong Southern Californian eleven and then losing to a supposedly middling Auburn team.

Tulane has a big, heavy line and an excellent starting backfield. Leo Thomas, who ran 60 yards for a touchdown against the Institute last year, is the running star of the Green Wave.

The sometimes-powerful Green Wave will outwight the Institute squad upwards of the man on the line and slightly less in the backfield.

The game will be played in the Tulane stadium. The kickoff will be at 2:00 and a crowd of 30,000 is expected.

Tennis Quarters

Finals—Bowling Begins

Intramural tennis entered the quarter-finals today with three upsets standing out in the result of eliminations. Jack Armstrong scored in a sparring 6-3, 6-3 victory over Jimmery Cleaver to highlight the field and to establish himself as a contender for the crown.

Jack Armstrong will face the number two contender in the semi-final round. In the lower bracket, Witte now is holding down the number one position, but has to meet Marshall in a battle to the right for the quarter-finals. George Teplayger stands out as the number two contender in the lower bracket, having turned back Rags in his first round match. The boys' bowling league will start bowling for averages Monday afternoon and continue through next week.

Golfers to Meet

Monday at 7:30

There will be a meeting of the evening golf team Monday at 7:30 in A. B. 202, according to an announcement Thursday by George Pierce, captain of last year's squad.

In view of the war and its effect on transportation and the supply of clubs, there has been some doubt as to whether the Institute would even attempt to continue golfing on its sporting calendar. However, Pierce has been very active in trying to keep the sport going and believes that if sufficient interest is evidenced he can secure the necessary equipment from the athletic department.

Anyone who is interested in the game is urged to attend the meeting Monday.
