Phi Beta Kappa Elects Seven New Members

The institution chapter of the Phi Beta Kappa has announced the selection of seven new members through Dr. F. S. Lea, secretary of the chapter.

The new members received letters Monday, informing them of their election. They are, in alphabetical order, Donald Anderson, an architect and a resident of Houston; Mary Olivia Fuller, who is taking her bachelor's degree and is also from Houston; Archibald Heil, of Columbia, Kansas; Rosemary McDonald, a biology student, who is from Paris, Texas; Laura Louise Peden, a biology student, from Richmond, Kentucky; and Elouise Schmelz, a history student, who is also from Houston.

The election of Ralph Anderson was particularly noteworthy since Dr. Lea has said that he who will be elected to the society has never been honored by election to the chapter than he.

The elections are limited to no more than five per year for the campus chapter of Phi Beta Kappa, and are limited to $25.00 per candidate. The nomination process should complete and return them blanks to the Registrar's Office promptly. Recommendations for membership should not be given until these blanks are returned, and these completed recommendations must be turned in by April 1.

No application for teaching positions should complete and return them blanks to the Registrar's Office promptly. Recommendations for membership should complete and return them blanks to the Registrar's Office and must be turned in by April 1.

Architects Elect New Officers

The Architectural Society has elected officers for next year, John Ward, present president announced this week. New leaders of the "Drafter's Guild" now, Douglas Steinman, president; Dr. K. L. W. Case, secretary; and William and Mary College on December 6, 1976.

The required number of signatures for a class officer petition is ten in addition to the nominating committee. These officers consist of the regular executive offices, besides the representatives on the 1945-46 Student Council, in its regular meeting Tuesday.

This week, the Tau Beta Pi chapter elected instead of succeeding from the top ten per cent of students. The new leaders of the society are Charlie Malmberg; president of the society; Charles Matthew, present assistant editor; and Archie Hood, secretary-treasurer.

New and old students are invited to join the society for an evening of dancing.

March is Red Cross Month

President Roosevelt has designated March as "Red Cross Month." During this month, the American Red Cross will conduct activities throughout the nation. This is done to promote service to the Red Cross and to bring the organization to the attention of the American public.

The work of the Red Cross is well-known and appreciated.

The Red Cross is an international organization that provides relief to victims of disaster, war, and other emergencies. It is a humanitarian organization that helps those in need around the world. The Red Cross has been in operation since 1863, and it continues to provide assistance to those in need today.

In addition to providing immediate relief, the Red Cross also works to prevent disasters and promote health and safety. They do this through education and training programs, as well as by working with governments and other organizations to respond to emergencies.

The Red Cross is supported by donations from individuals and organizations across the United States. They are not funded by the government, but rely on donations to carry out their mission.

The work of the Red Cross is truly noble, and it is important that we continue to support this organization in any way we can.

Let us all do our part to support the Red Cross and help those in need around the world.

Dear Modern Editor:

We are quite flattered at the thought that we made an impression on some student policies and making decisions for students. But it is not surprising that your students were underestimated: we sent only 25 out of 40, not 80, pictures to be judged for the beauty section of the Campanile.

The beauty-and-favorite candidates are hereby notified of the following facts: (1) The staff had the right, no matter how fair, to choose all beauties and favorites personally. (2) The eighty candidates were chosen from a list containing the name of every woman student in Rice, by a representative group for the first time in many years. There were roughly proportional representatives from each literary society and the independent group and several boys, not the staff of the Campanile, as was the practice formerly. (3) A majority of the eighty candidates chosen were so picked because of their possibility of being elected favorites, with no intention of their becoming candidates for the beauty chosen from a list of all 80 by a group section. (4) The favorites were chosen from a list of all 80 by a group composed of representatives from each group, each of the Literary societies, the staff of the Thresher, Owl, and Cam. (5) The beauty-and-favorite photography will have any connection whatsoever with any member of the Campanile staff or any of the candidates.

We should, we feel, show fairness (for the first time in our lives) to those bold advocates of the right of free speech by printing the Thresher naturally deleted as being grounds for libel. The last paragraph of their letter read: "... the word fairness does not even exist in the vocabulary of this high-palced staff of students."

The Campanile, which will cost approximately $4.95 (four dollars and ninety-six cents) per copy, is issued to every student on an appropriation of $2.50 (two dollars and fifty cents) from his blanket tax. The balance of the students' enormous salaries must be made up from advertising sales.

Any young lady who feels she has been wronged or cheated by the collecting from her of a cash deposit by the Campanile beauty-and-favorite photographers must have the full amount refunded by the Campanile immediately upon request. The fact that she didn't have to bother (in the first place) "with having pictures made for this high-school publication" will not be considered.

Yours very gratefully,
The Campanile Staff.
