Pledge To Be Initiated At Some Future Date
In January, Says President

The Rice chapter of the Tau Beta Pi, honorary engineering fraternity, has announced the names of the new members for the fall. The new members were elected by Ed Morsy, Robert Swasey, Olay Hodrick, Stuart Muit, John Bros, Manning Ligon, Charles Hagemeier, M. D. Francis, and Rodolfo de Garza.

Lamon Davis, president of the Rice chapter, said that the initiation of the pledges would be held some time in January. A date will be announced at a later time.

The initiation of the pledges consists of a series of ceremonies planned by each member to have a booklet of all present active members, alumni, faculty members, and pledges. Secondly, each has to write a follow-up letter and return a copy of current importance pertaining to their own particular field of engineering. Third, they have to polish a rough existing of the badge of Tau Beta Pi.

Bible Forum Votes Tate President; Roy, Vice-Presy

The Bible Forum, at its weekly meeting on Wednesday evening, October 15, elected the following officers to serve for the remainder of the semester: President Harold Tate; Vice-president, Pashall Roy; secretary, Mr. P. A. Knoply.

Meetings will continue to be held every Wednesday evening from 7:30 to 9:30 in the Senior Commons. The discussions, which are led each week by various Houston Bible teachers of prominence, are inter-denominational and are based solely on a study of the Bible itself.

At Oklahoma City

The Christmas holidays bring with them new productions at the major cinema halls, beginning today. "Lassie Come Home" is scheduled for the Lowe's "Corvette K-225" for the Warners "Crazy House," the Metropolitan. "Lassie Come Home" is a beautifying story of Eric Knight's adventures of a dog and his love for his young master. "Crazy House" is a band of collies of the highest intelligence, owned by a man's son, Sandy McMillan (named for his performances in "How Green Was My Valley"). Financial difficulties force the family of Sam Carra- dough, the miner, to sell the dog to a nobleman who breeds dogs as a hobby. Lassie, however, escapes from her master at every opportunity, and this is where the main part of the story lies. Finally, the nobleman tends Lassie to Scotland in the hope that Lassie will not escape so easily. But Lassie gets away and begins her journey back to Yorkshire, where her former young master resides. The journey to Yorkshire is one of great hardship for the collie, but "it is beautiful also in its revelation of the human kindness and wisdom that permit the proof done for a better world."

Yorkshire Back-Country

The play is in technicolor and affords a helpful medium for the back-country of Yorkshire and Scotland. The supporting cast includes Donald Crisp, Dame May Whitty, Christopher Edmund, Nigel Bruce, and Elisa Lancaster. "Corvette K-225," starring Ran- di McShane, James, Brown, and Elisa Belcred is a salute to convoy escorts of the navy, which have enjoyed such a great part in winning the battle of the Atlantic. Randolph Scott is the skipper of a corvette which is lost in combat with a submarine. The heroine of the girl with whom Scott is in love goes down with the ship. The girl becomes a policewoman and blames her brother's death on Scott. Scott is given another command on a corvette, K-225, only to discover that another of his girl's brothers is on board. He manages to escort a convoy to England the K-225 is involved in a duel battle with a submarine and Nazi planes.

What About Christmas?

Every student at Rice is eagerly looking forward to the Christmas holidays.

Christmas for students may mean going home to be with their families. For those too far from home, Christmas may be spent with the family of some friend. More specifically, this feeling will mean sleeping late and spending the long mornings at home to worry about, staying out later at nights, tables of delicious foods, and Christmas gifts. Yes, to us Christmas will mean doing what we want to do.

Well, Rice Student, did you ever stop to consider what Christmas will mean in other parts of the world? What about our own boys overseas? Some of them may have the opportunity to celebrate with their buddies. Even though they will be a long way from home, they will be with friends. Most of them, however, won't be so lucky. They may spend Christmas Eve in a trench or a fox-hole; in a bomber or a fighter-plane; or on a blacked-out ship, wondering if they will see the light on Christmas morning.

What about the people in France this Christmas? In all those conquered countries how can the people sing "Peace on Earth, Good will toward men" with the Nazi yoke pressing so heavily on their shoulders. How ironic it must seem to them. So Rice Student, you had better thank your lucky stars to be here in the United States when you look at that lighted Christmas tree; you had better resolve to do all you can to keep the lights on in our country.

May your Christmas be merry and may the New Year bring victory and peace—M.F.
A better idea of the process of the games by that time than we do at present.

After the tests which these coming games will offer we should also have better ideas on the subject of our personnel. At present boys in grey and blue have some improvements to make, but at the rest, they are going, they should find victory the reward of their efforts freely.

Chinese Navy Unit Studies English at Swarthmore

Swarthmore, Pa. (ACP) One of Swarthmore College’s newest groups of students came all the way from Chungking. They are a Chinese Naval Unit of about fifty cadets and officers sent to Swarthmore to study English by the Chinese Government and the United States Navy. After their stay at Swarthmore, they will be assigned to advanced institutions for study of naval construction and techniques.

Commanded by Rear Admiral Tsu Lin, C. N., the officers left Chungking more than two months ago. Upon arrival in New York they embarked on a transport for the United States. They are all cadets or commissioned officers of the Chinese Navy and some of them have been devorated for service in China.

They spend most of their time studying English in small groups and talking in English with the American students on the campus. The rest of their time is devoted to physical education which is conducted in the same way as that of the V-12 unit. The fifty officers are divided into seven or eight sections for study of the English, and opportunity to study under each of the instructors.

Although several groups of Chinese aviators have been trained in the United States already, this is the first such Naval group to be trained

Dear Santa,

Wa, the editorial staff of The Thresher, realizing that in these critical times in space your sleigh must be ready for carrying essential articles, send you a list of things absolutely essential to our continued existence.

Bring all the reporters fewer and shorter assignments.

All we are asking on the staff is that you send them plenty of morning rain—to be delivered starting January 5, 1944, and to continue morning until after finals.

Our Staff Columnist wants more and drier dirt.

Please bring C. Q. a better hiding place for his Christmas spirit, and you might help him fill it.

Buddy ought to have some outlet for that boundless energy of his—maybe a jumping rope.

Just a G.I. Seamstress?

If you're forever getting up the needle and thread, here are some tips:

When a button comes off, sew it on well the first time. A slip-shod job just means you'll have to do it over again soon.

Make your next shirt an Arrow. Arrow buttons are attached with a patented stitch, which makes it impossible to pull out a button.

Check your store—you may be wearing too small a shirt and therefore causing too great a strain on the buttons and seams. The Sanforized label in an Arrow shirt guarantees shrinkage no greater than 1%—no danger of an Arrow ever getting out of shape.
