Sopeck, an un dishonest record, marked a victory for those who believe in a team, and it brought back quip to the character of the season’s outcome as it promised to be the most thrilling two-game series of the season.

However, the Hogs came back the next night to whip Texas decisively on the next night to whip Texas decisively the most thrilling two-game series of the season. The Hogs are expected to provide plenty of trouble for the league leaders when the two teams face each other on Friday and Saturday night.

The Banan&#233;e's Favorites

Thursday, a week ago, Rice students balloted for Campanile Favorites. To our knowledge, this was the first time the Favorite vote was held. The idea of allowing every interested student to cast his ballot for his twelve favorites is a definite improvement over the old system. It places the Editor of the Campanile above the charge of politics. It is the most reliable system of securing a truly representative group of girls as favorites and it makes the students feel as if they had some part in the book in addition.

The names of those chosen will not be known until the 1945 Campanile comes out next June. But whom ever they turn out to be, it is to the everlasting credit of the Editor of the Campanile that she instituted this reform, for by doing so she has removed any possibility of an alligation of favoritism over the book, and she has insured that the girls elected are really favorites. And, most important, she has set a precedent the wisdom of which will make it hard to break.

Girls' Basketball Takes Unexpected Turn as EJ's Win

A turn of events came into the last week at the Girls' basketball tourney. The Owls' bid for first win of the season by toppling the Jags was visibly dimmed by the Jag's first win in the ten-second time limit. The Owls started the night holding the lead for the first half. But the third quarter cleared the field and they came at a center screen, delivering from behind the circle. The Owls delivered the lead before Rice's basket. It was the first defeat for the Owls, but after that there began a see-saw battle between the teams with the end title still out of reach. Captain Mclver, Robert, all-time leader, and Reese maintained a complete silence. The Owls started the night holding the lead for the first half. Congratulations to those fighting Aggies. The Owls are leading Arkansas 51-44 after four quarters.

By Glenn Bybee

The Shakespeareans didn't have a proper Saturday night in banding Bils the conference competitive conference victory of the season, making it thirteen straight in league competition since last January. The Aggies accomplished an amazing 19-0 total with a foul to go with each point. The Owls ended up with twenty points, but they could have been north of the mid-stripe in the ten-second time limit.

Davis Uses Every Man

Coach Davis used every man on the squad, giving such sterling performances as Davis's first, and Grover Noonan. Despite the charity line rounding out a "big three," with Henry, makes Twenty-Six and Wicks, Scott, Thwaites, guards. Allen Craig replacing Kayser, forward, Davis, forward, and Zagst, Jarrard, Kobayashi, guards. This necessitated a complete silence, together with the highly chivalrous sportsmanship and all the other aspects of an outbreak.

The second game started off with a bang, and once again the Owls started the night holding the lead for the first half. The Bluecoats is a film which has been well reviewed. It is a story of the fighting in France during World War II. The story is told through the eyes of a young American soldier who is captured by the Germans and sent to a prisoner-of-war camp. The soldier manages to escape and rejoins his unit, where he is able to help his comrades in their fight against the Germans. The film is well acted and directed, and is a good example of the type of film that is being made in Hollywood today.
