President William V. Houston
Greets 498 Freshmen; Asks
They Develop School Loyalty

Stresses that College Students Must Accept More Individual Responsibility

On September 20, President William V. Houston welcome 498 new freshmen to the Institute and expressed hope that they might develop as strong a loyalty to the school and its traditions as former students had.

In his address made to the new students, he stressed the fact that there would be many differences between college and high school, especially in the amount of school work and the demand of teachers, and that each one of you has the responsibility to find out what is the best method of doing your school work. The hard work you do in college will be more valuable to you than all the preparation you have received in high school.

President Houston did not dwell on the new students with the hope that they might be able to forget the past; but, stated that, "One of the things a college student must learn is to be able to study sufficiently in the face of things you may find difficult to do. He pointed out that the academic life is an easy task to most of you, and it counts upon yourselves to justify your selection to be here.

Editorial Page

The Editor Says...

As each new school year begins, the THRESHER starts a new page. It is the first line of the page that the editor traditionally sets forth his editorial policy. But this year's policy appears more idealistic than practical, we wish to mention and explain several factors...

Concerning the editorial pages itself, we quote a statement of President H. L. Meaux,—"a neutral editorial page is a waste of space." Wherever it is possible the THRESHER editorial page will be direct. The idea is not to tell the student what to think, but rather to take a firm stand on issues that arise. The editorial page should be a clash of opinions, an arena of public life.

We point to the "Randall B" columns of the page. We welcome letters, even those that disagree with our views. We do not wish to kill any of such columns. CUPID HAS BUSY SUMMER MARRIING OFF RICE STUDENTS

This season, the most busy place on campus has been one of engagements announced and engagements followed. Blue gowns and blue grooms and blue brides have soared to all-time high records. The final count is still not available, but the number keeps climbing. One of the most engaging events of the season was the engagement of Ann Bray and Jimmy Berries entertained dates.

The reception, an all-school affair, was held at the home of Ann Bray and Jimmy Berries entertained dates. Refreshments were served at the reception from a table that had decorations carried out the school colors. Mrs. Canary made all of the decorations and arranged the flowers. The field house became decorated with streamers and balloons and a invitation prepared the way for the dancing in the gymnasium. PALS ENTERTAIN NEW GIRLS AT COKE PARTY

A cozy little party was held in Rice's new girls' tea room on Friday afternoon for the new girls at the Pals' reception. The tea room was decorated in the Pals' colors of red and blue, and coffee and tea were served. The new girls were given a warm welcome and introduced to the Pals. The tea was a great success, and the new girls were well pleased with their reception.

ELLS HOLD MANY SUMMER PARTIES

The first week of school the E.L.L. spent at the home of the president of Rice, Dr. J. R. Wilson, enjoying fishing, swimming, and on the home front, getting their routine work started.

The E.L.L. is the Literary Society that was founded at Rice in 1895. The society has held annual meetings of the faculty and students since its inception. The first meeting of the society was held at the home of Professor W. H.轸.

Many of the alumni of the E.L.L. are active in the society today.

The problem you've presented seems to be a mixture of sentences without a clear question or context. It appears to be a random assortment of text that doesn't form a complete or coherent document. If you could provide a specific question or clarify the context, I would be able to assist you better.
