Dr. Craig is the Samuel Teodoro, professor of History, will deliver a lecture on "Secret Weapons of Napoleonic Wars," in which he will discuss the military strategies and weapons that were developed and used during the Napoleonic Wars. The lecture will be held on the campus of Rice University in Houston, Texas on the afternoon of October 13th. Dr. Craig is a renowned expert in the field of military history and has published extensively on the Napoleonic era. His lecture promises to be an engaging and informative exploration of this important period in history.

In addition to the lecture, Dr. Craig will also be available for a Q&A session following the lecture. This is a great opportunity for students and faculty to ask questions and engage with Dr. Craig on the topic of Napoleonic warfare.

The lecture is open to the public and will be held in the Butler Library Lecture Hall. Seating is limited, so it is recommended to arrive early to secure a seat.
It Can Be Done

Last week a group of members of the Beta Society talked over their plans for the coming term and decided to do something about the situation. They thought it would be best to get the entire school back on an even keel with desired things of participation by all. They quickly spread the word.

Not only were notices affixed but the need was brought to the attention of the administration. The administration, in turn, passed these notices on to the students.

The solution to the situation lies in the hands of student body. We have a situation that is completely under control toward student government. We have everything to do with the situation except the desire to do right.

It is the responsibility of the student in some way to make the present system of student affairs work. It is the responsibility of the student in some way to make the present system of student affairs work. It is the responsibility of the student in some way to make the present system of student affairs work.

Who Is at Fault?

The question of blame has been raised by many persons, including the Athletic Association, and also, those persons who are responsible for blanket taxes. Let us understand the situation and determine whether these groups are indeed responsible for the situation or if it is a necessary evil. Under the present system of student government there has been much discussion of the matter.

The Texas Brags of Rice Deefeat After Three Years

Power Loaded Blue Bolts Beat T.U. Shorthorns 27-0 Friday
As "Strong" Linemen Fail Cherry

Hitting out two second-quarter touchdowns after a slugfest, Coach Baumgarten's power loaded Rice Blue Bolts in the final period to topple Texas' notched Shorthorns, 27-0, in Memorial Stadium, Friday. Cherry's accommodation to big and strong theme was the raw pulse of victory for future Texas teams.

Cherry caved in and tacked with each visitation, that they moved the ball at will, through the Blue Bolts, for the win.

After a poor quarter, Blue Bert Wight, wound up the biggest of the day, with a 56-yard dash for a score. Wight burst at Versus Clark, and plowed through for the one-yard gain to score.

In the next offensive drive, Austin Anthis, former quarterback for Rice, advanced the ball 30-yards. Moody, who received the handoff, broke through the tackle of Larry Goss for a 15-yard run. The Blue Bolt was then forced off the ball.

Baptist Delegates Attend Convention

Five Blue representatives returned to the Baptist Delegates Convention at Wichita Falls last week.

A. H. R. Counselor, Austin Anthis.

A. R. Councilman, E. T. Moody.

A. R. Secretary, J. W. W. Worrell.

The southwesterners spent the last day in Washington, D.C., before embarking on their home-Memphis trip. A. R. World Tag, J. W. W. Worrell, was ready to leave the city by the 8:30 train.

A recent letter from a high school student to the Texas University said, "I admire the University of Texas. I admire the Blue Bolt football team. I admire Coach Lawler and his boys. I admire the Blue Bolt football team. But I admire Texas University more than I admire the Blue Bolt football team."

M.E.'s Efforts Give Them "New Tools"

Come next year, the M.E.'s will walk into the new season without the off-season worries of the past. It will be a brand new season, and the M.E.'s will be able to start from scratch.

Rice Institute Faculty

Harry Potter, new President of Rice, was on the campus last week, attending classes and meeting the faculty. He was in his short stay at the university.

In his short stay at Rice, he has been introduced to the university by the President of Rice, A. E. Lawler. He has also been introduced to the students and faculty of Rice.

Renamed "The Rice" to "The Blue Bolts"

M. E.'s effort to give the team "new tools" will be reflected in the season opener against the University of Texas. The team will be using the new tools against the Longhorns.

The dance will be open to all who can attend and watch the game from the stands. It will be held in the afternoon, time and again until the end of the season.

Braden was the offensive star of the day, returning the kick-off for a touchdown and rushing for 110 yards. The Blue Bolt was then forced off the ball.

FOOTLIGHTS

By LESLIE HOGAN

THE TITLE of this week's trivia under the Footlight heading is "How to Paint the Moon Line." As a column a couple of weeks ago was dedicated to the beginner in art appreciation, this one is devoted to the more rabid disciple who has decided to give visual expression to the tortured soul that dwells beneath mortal "nerves.

Based on a request submitted by the Athletic department.

Now that the first of the month is here, let us remember the importance of health to the student who has just completed another month of a college career. One of the most important duties of a nurse is to protect the health of the students under her care. It is no excuse for the student to be anything but radiantly healthy.

A painting is not a picture. It is an illusion. It is the expression of feeling and emotion. As in the written word, the meaning of the composition is lost when taken out of its environment. The love of nature, the beauty of the unknown world, the joy of life are some of the factors which the artist seeks to bring to the student. The artist who is able to convey his own interpretation of life in his painting has a great deal to offer the student. A painting can be a source of inspiration, relaxation, and enjoyment.

On Monday afternoon, November 7th, the students have an opportunity to see a painting by the artist, H. L. Pile. The painting is a landscape of the Adirondack Mountains.

When the theme is music, the student is invited to picture the concert, the symphony, the opera, or the recital. The student is invited to think of the music of the orchestra, the piano, the guitar, or the violin. The student is invited to think of the music of the world, the music of the universe, the music of life.

Somebody to Speak

Dr. S. F. Hunsicker, professor of Psychology at the University of Vanderbilt, will lecture at the University of Arkansas, on the psychology of music, on Monday, November 7th, at 7:30 p.m. in the Physics auditorium. The lecture will be open to the public.
