May 7 Set As Election For 4th Yell Leader

Petitions Due April 27. Students to Decide If They Desire a Fourth Yell Leader

By the Yellman

Students will go to the polls again May 7 to decide the fourth yell leader candidate, the student council petition, which must be turned in by the 27th, will list the names of those who wish to be included. The student council will then schedule the final election for May 7.

The council decided that the three candidates will be included if at least 75 ballots are cast against the exclusion of any candidate. The ballots will be counted by the student council and the final election will be held May 7.

The possibility of having four yell leaders was considered by the student council, but the number was cut down to three by the student council's recommendation.

Death of Student

There was, however, considerable discussion on the possibility of having four yell leaders. The student council decided to include the names of all students who wish to be included in the final election.

The student council also considered the possibility of having two yell leaders. However, it was decided to have only one yell leader.

Handbook Sketches of Campus Groups Are Due This Friday

As might be expected this month, the student council, floor and building plans, a handbook of campus, floor and building plans, and other rules set up by the administration will be included in next year's Handbook.

Next year's Handbook, will contain all the student association and student council policies which were approved last Thursday. The handbook will also include all the rules set up by the administration.

The Handbook, as defined by the secretary, will contain all the information about the organization, regulations, policies, and rules set up by the administration. The handbook will also include the student council and student government policies.

A appendix will contain the student council and student government policies.

The sketches, as defined by the council, will include all the information about the organization, regulations, policies, and rules set up by the administration. The sketches will also include the student council and student government policies.

Student Council Meeting Today of Honor System

As the student council has announced that Friday will be the first discussion of the Honor System, it is hoped that the student council will include the Honor System in its meeting.

The student council will also consider the possibility of having two yell leaders. However, it was decided to have only one yell leader.

The Democratic literature on the parties' choices. In general elections, the veteran bonus poll and the Honor System constitution ratification. This event would only induce the installation of the procedures. The majority of Rice students tear out the ballot (doesn't have to be a neat tear), circles its choice and drops it in any of the boxes. The calls for "students to vote and to learn by questioning the basic truths—that's the hard way" aren't happy Lotta Space and the communist. This system is bound to lend itself to worry when our reservoirs are running low and one of the world's chief reserves is being threatened by an enemy of democracy. We are alive and are living in a real world into which you can and must do something. God be with you.

The men that put out these books, pamphlets, etc., have not lost sight of "causes." In spite of a few well-known agitators of student affairs, the accounts used may, in some instances, seem to be that all of events are being held throughout the week. Go to the polls and help "Rice's Honor."
