Special Student Ticket Plan Developed To Prevent Overcrowded Section

Wednesday night the Student Council passed a motion approving a plan to keep illegal spectators out of the student section at the game tomorrow night. These precautions were deemed necessary in view of the guest ticket and blanket tax smuggling which took place at the LSU game.

The new system includes punching of blanket taxes by ushers at the entrances gates of the stadium. There will be four aisles open to students and their guests, at gates 2 and 4, which will be the only gates through which students will be allowed to pass. Two students will be posted outside the stadium to regulate passage through these gates, and to see that the lines go quickly so that there will be a long wait for no one.

All guest tickets will be taken up by the ushers at the gate, and special new tickets will be given to both guest ticket holders old blanket tax holders. These tickets will provide admittance to the student section only, and will be taken up at Aisle 89, which is the only entrance to this section. When a student wants to leave the section he will be given one of these tickets, which will be taken up again when he returns. No person will be allowed in the student section at any time unless he is holding one of these tickets. A blanket tax will not enable anyone to enter the section.

The above system will prevent any crowding of the student section, which will be roped off in the usual manner, i.e. a large black extending south from the 43-yard line to about the 25-yard line. Students will be stationed at the south ropes to prevent any spectators from crossing them, and ushers will act as the sentinels for the same purpose.

Each student entering the student section will be given a new ticket, including admissions to both the halftime festivities at the Texas game, and at the Homecoming Dance Saturday night. The candidates and sponsoring organizations at top row, left to right, Jean Bennett, PALE; Shirley Arnold, Cheer Club; Camille Coulter, GLS; Lillian Newberry, MEELS; Guibert Ray, Engineering Society; and Roe Levendos, Band.

Bottom row: Katherine Potthoff, Head of the sophomore class; Bonnie Gray, Art Simpson, Thresher; Beverly Carter, Architectural Society and Sextant Club; and Alice Flack, Rally Club.

All freshmen boys will meet in the Student Lounge, announced Sandy Moore, secretary of the Student Council. If there are extra seats for 1500 blanket tax holders, 416 will be the only gates through which students will be allowed to pass.

Frosh Slime Parade, Pep Rally Climax "Smear SMU" Week

Climaxing a huge "Smear SMU" campaign which has taken over the campus this week will be the annual slime parade and pep rally at the Rice Hotel, tonight.

All freshmen boys will meet in the Student Lounge at 8:00, to be made up in the traditional fashion by members of the sophomore class. Buses will leave for town with the pajama-clad freshman fresh at 8:30.

The parade, which will be led by the Rice band and decorated convertibles filled with freshmen girls, will assemble at the Humble Building at 12:30 Main at 7:30. It will proceed to the Rice Hotel, where the 20-minute pep rally will begin at 7:30.

The rally, featuring well-known "SMU" spirit has been at a high ebb all week with "Smear SMU" signs posted all over the campus and written on the blackboards and side-walks. Teddy Monte, head yell leader, expresses the hope that a large number of students, not merely freshmen, will turn out for the evening festivities.

Publication Offices And Soph Positions Will Be Filled

Two polls will be set up Monday to enable the students to vote in the Student Association election, which will fill two sophomore class positions, three all-school positions and the position of Homecoming Queen.

Candidates for the offices include: Ben Guett, assistant bookkeeper manager of the Campanile; Gail Lewis, assistant editor of the Campanile; Perry McPherson, secretary-treasurer of the sophomore class; Norman Moser, Bonny Grace, Art Simpson, Oliver Laflone, and Thomas J. Taylor, sophomore Student Council representatives; Allene Timlin, Harold Melnick, and Bill Curley, Association of the Fifties.

The polls located in front of Anderson Hall and the Engineering Building, will be open from 8 a.m. until 1 p.m., and each student will be required to show his blanket tax before voting.

Candidates' expense accounts must be turned in to a member of the Student Council election committee before noon tomorrow. Automatic disqualification follows failure to comply with this rule.

All campaign signs must be taken up after the noon of the election. (Continued on Page 9)

-charity committee asks all students to sign pledges

"I will, during the week of the Charity Drive from Friday evening to Saturday evening, sign the pledge to support the Charity Drive this week.

Next week each student and faculty member of Rice Institute will receive a postcard bearing the above pledge. The charity committee asks everyone to sign the half of the postcard bearing this statement and drop it in the collection box in the Student Lounge from October 29-30. The other half must be kept as a reminder.

This year students and faculty are asked to estimate their contribution to the Charity Drive the week preceding the drive, sign the postcard received in the mail, deposit the correct half in the contribution box and turn the other half into the week of the Charity Drive, November 4-11, contribute the amount pledged in the contribution boxes on the campus. The signed card is a private commitment on the student's part and is made on its fulfillment. Fulfillment of the signed cards is one of the goals of the entire drive.

See page 4 for information on the Charity Drive and how to sign up. The Foster Parent Plan for War Orphans.
We Aim To Please

Several students and faculty members have appeared recently in various aspects of The Thresher, as it were. Every newspaper, civic or otherwise, is supposed to have certain rules by which every story is written, every headline counted, and every page folded. The Thresher has few such rules. Most of the staff members are working merely because it is an interesting pastime, not for any love of journalism, and certainly not with any large amount of experience.

It’s fairly obvious that there is no journalism department at Rice... this could be discovered by just reading the paper. In addition to this lack of instruction and guidance, the staff members are allowed no special time to spend on the work. In other words, the Thresher is entirely an extracurricular activity.

This isn’t meant to be an attempt at “the saddest story ever told.” We don’t have to put out a paper. We want to, but we also want a good paper, and this, for these reasons, is not an easy goal.

We make mistakes... lots of them. Some of these errors we see, just as every student and faculty member sees them. Improvements are slow, but they are being attempted.

But many of our mistakes, we don’t see. Maybe we’re suffering from myopia, too close association with our brain-child.

The student can do the staff a great favor by not just sitting back and scoffing at our faults, whether they be actual errors, or lack of interesting copy, insufficient coverage, etc. We want to know what you want to know if we don’t know where we fall down, and we want most of all to hear suggestions for improvement.

There is always space in the paper for “Letters to the Editor,” although there have been none this year. Or if a student prefers, a note to the editor not to be printed is equally welcome. We’re asking you to judge, complain, say anything you feel (even stupidity if it is the only appropriate expression). Letters may be mailed to the Thresher office through campus mail, or dropped in the box outside the door.

We ask you... how can we give you the kind of campus newspaper you want if we don’t know what you want?

Mars, Harris, Tinsley and Linglenfelter, a voice croons into the telephone, as Marrs (Magnolia to everyone), sitting next to the telephone, didn’t have a chance to answer. Marrs, Harris, Tinsley and Linglenfelter make up a closed corporation of Rice girls living in a five-room apartment.

Marrs, with that dreamy-eyed look capable of getting her out of everything from an embarrassing family chauffeur and party insatiable; Gooise Harris, a last year’s grad, who teaches an Over Oaks Elementary, keeps us regaled with her tales and all things; "the girls, they’re so sweet," myself, chief ash-emptor and accountant; and our Ann Linglenfelter, looking present to and being married in Deleware.

"Life can be aah!" A typical four-way conversation at Apt. D: "So I said to him Dimmy what have you been doing that you should tell me about?", and he was just doing what Dimmy was doing. "I am aah!," I said dimly, so I looked red and Dimmy how could you dis- appoint me so? - I never thought that you..." But Joe Gooise, with a calciferous 4th grade and have him premise was like this: "I just love you!"

"I've just one thing to say... "I'm going to lock eyelashes with that woman," Dimmy, Dimmy, Dimmy! - I never thought you..." Magnolia drawing along about my two poor boys, and "brandy light at Blaughter and Sherwood. Seems she has come her matter more by her two poor boys, and 'sips and red just in time to stop her, upon which Magnolia generally screams "I can't stand it, turn, turn, turn!" Much to the astonishment of those two boys, she turned around and peeked up beside her. One day, I thought the gentleman of the house was about to get out and restrain Mag- nolia from violence. That was the day she drove up, stopped at the red light, yelled it, rammed the car into reverse and almost backed into the perturbed lady in a Buick in back of her, and then gunned forward in face of the traffic charge."

Our fine-feathered friend isn't being "taken-in" by all those tricky cigarette tests you hear so much about. A fast puff of this brand—a sniff of that. A quick inhale—a fast exhale—and you're supposed to know about cigarettes! No! You don't have to rely on quick-tricks. The sensible way to test a cigarette is to smoke pack after pack, day after day. That's the test Camel asks you to make...the 30-Day Mildness Test. Smoke Camels—and only Camels—for 30 days. Let your own "T-Zone" (T for Throat, T for Taste) be your proving ground. And when you've tried Camels as a steady smoke, you'll know why...

Mr. James L. Whitcomb, Chairman of the Rice University Alumni Association, has announced that the Alumni Association has established a Rice University Alumni Scholarship Fund at the University of Caen. The fund will provide financial assistance to students of the University of Caen who are unable to continue their studies due to financial difficulties.

The fund will be administered by the University of Caen, and the first allocation of funds will be made in January 1950. The Alumni Association is requesting that members of the University of Caen who are interested in this fund provide information about their financial needs.

The Alumni Association is grateful to the University of Caen for their cooperation in establishing this fund and to all members of the University of Caen who have contributed to this fund.

Handbooks Shows Interesting Fact

By Tim Weakley

Most of you, I'm sure, have read or at least seen a copy of the Vade Mecum, a pamphlet pertaining to the history and customs of the Institute and published, by some quirk of fate, by the Pamphlet Committee. Glancing over the somewhat suggestive name-on implied in the title, which for all you high school Spanish students and Protestants means "come with me", I would like to call your attention to one paragraph, penned by a master hand. Beginning at the bottom of page 2, it reads, "By 1924 the administration found it necessary, because of lack of funds, to limit the total enrollment to fifteen hundred students and the admission of new students to four hundred each year. Holding as a sacred trust the noble traditions established by their predecessors, fifteen-or-so thousand men and women who have attended the school have, with the kindly cooperation of the instructional staff, limited the number of graduates to somewhat over six thousand in the series of commencements since 1916." Ah, the happy days at the Rice Institute, with the kindly instructional staff watching over us to see that no more than 70 per cent of graduates. Ah, noble tradition; ah, sacred trust.

Due to the fact that, if I continued, Ernst Voss would have to distribute the papers by hand this week instead of mailing them, I'd better shut up.

Council Members

Fete SMU Visitors

Members of the Rice Student Council will entertain 50 visiting Student Council members from SMU here tomorrow. There will be a banquet in the Senior Commons at 6:00, and from there the Rice students will accompany the visitors in the game where they will sit in the Rice student section.

The Rice band will meet the SMU student train and will entertain the members of the visiting band with a reception in the Lounge of Weisz Hall tomorrow afternoon.

Several tours will be repaid off in the student section for the Rice and SMU Student Council members, as will be done for all such conference visitors in future games. This is a conference custom.

Intra Basketball
Tournament Begins

The double elimination bird sits in the nest and gets under way last week and six teams are now in the intra-mural play.

The fifth game between the Filthy Five and the Silents was played last Tuesday at 4:30. The Silents led after the first period and then went on to win the game 20-11. The Silents scored 13 points in the last 15 minutes of the game to pull out the close victory. The Silents remain perfect in league play now and are the only unbeaten team in the league.

The Pushovers played the Dodgers last Wednesday at 4:30 and lost 20-13. Both teams struggled to keep up the pace, but the Pushovers were finally defeated. The Pushovers are now 2-2 in league play.

Next week the teams will continue to play the intra-mural games, with the Pushovers facing the Dodgers and the Filthy Five playing the Silents.

Letter from the Silents:

Hi, I'm just a girl from the Silents. I'm in our second year of college at Texas. Our big game is coming up and we're all excited. We're playing the Filthy Five next week and we're hoping for a win. Keep your fingers crossed for us!

Sincerely,

Football:

The Dodgers strike for their lone tally.

The Dodgers scored their first touchdown of the season last Saturday against the Engineers. The touchdown was scored by John Sullivan who caught a pass from Donaldson, Pete, and Burton. The score put the Dodgers ahead in the game.

The game was played in a haze of smoke and dust, with the fans yelling and cheering for their teams. The Engineers were leading by 14 points at halftime, but the Dodgers came back in the second half to win by a score of 20-14. The win is the first of the season for the Dodgers.

The Pushovers have a tough road ahead of them. They will face the Dodgers next week and will need to play their best to have a chance of winning.

Sincerely,
