$2000 Raised By Architects For Fellowship More money than ever before in the history of the Traveling Fellowship in Architecture was made by the Architecture Student’s Annual Ball and pageant on February 16.
Nominated Bob Bradbury, president, this week. The goal of $1000,  be-given to the winner in this year’s competition for pur-ting his knowledge of art and architecture by travel in Europe, was exceeded by $100.

The extra amount will be awarded to the second place winner, along with a trip to the Chicago Architecture Fair. If funds permit joins the knowledge of architecture City, president.

The Architectural Fellowship is awarded to a student of Architectecture, with emphasis on those who are interested in the field designed by students in various schools of architecture. The fellow-scholarship is intended to help with the cost of travel to Europe, where the student will be able to study the works of great architectural masters.

Dickey Leaves For Air Force

Professor James L. Dickey is in for

The popular English Instructor was called to active duty by the Army last week, and will report to Maxwell Field, Ala., for assignment.

Dickey is the first member of the English department to be called into the service and one of the few on the entire faculty. No arrangements have been made to replace him so far, but the other members of the department temporarily doubling up on his work.

Dickey was a night fighter pilot during the last war, and has served in the Galveston Engineer Division during the last war and was an officer in the U.S. Army Air Corps for many years.

At present, Mr. Newman holds the rank of Colonel in the Organized Reserve.

He will describe the varied activities of the Corps of Engineers which should be of interest to all engineers who are faced with the prospect of military service.

Other speakers slated for this series are Mr. E. L. Maxwell, of Lockwood and Andrews, who will

Lanford Wins Prize for Paper

Fifteen Rice students were awarded prizes at the American Society of Mechanical Engineers convention held at LSU, Baton Rouge, La., last Friday and Saturday.

Technical sessions and a trip to the "Morgana Spillway," a government project on the Mississippi River, were highlights of the convention.

The engineers Raymond Lanford and Kenneth Blankenship read paters at the convention. Lanford, with a paper on "Flame-Hardening of Steel," was awarded prizes of $500 for the paper.

Mr. Blankenship’s paper was entitled "Cutting-Tooth Line-Coating Procedures Used." He was awarded prize of $500.

Rice, LSU, Texas A&M, Texas A&M, and Tulane were represented at the convention.

Letter to the Editor...

May I thank you very much for printing my letter here, for now I can proudly raise my head and shout, "I am one of the select few!"—yes, one of the select few who have written a letter to the editor.

And this is a letter of the Thresher on just that count. There is nothing, in my opinion, worth writing about and, for that matter, nothing worth reading in the Thresher. I may sound rather caustic, but that is exactly how I feel. This is a recent issue. And what did I find? "If you have a problem, Janet, let's hear it!" What a cheery thought that "EPA's, Owl plans ban!"

On another page, we find a plea for more readers, even on our game, but don't come alone. Bring a friend—no paying friend. That is, fill up the stadium for some worry, of your wish. Bill G. H. Rip up and drag the old orange coat out of mothballs. Let's all get behind the boys and fight—but be sure to bring a paying friend.

I ask to read the present edition of the Thresher to remember the Thresher of two years ago. I am cnothermal. I think I could try out a darn interesting paper, and I would respect the present editor might make a good paper for me. I'm still a writer, I want to admit to that I can poofaced. I am still. I found out that if you drop by the Thresher office, perhaps you will agree and not argue the student body was more interested in that paper than in this one.

Brady is a very controversial character, and the work starts an argument. And he certainly had a job back in 1944-45. His racial de-give you a chance to write about the "Spring is here," and that you would hardly be interested in any subject which they may choose.

Four $350 Scholarships Available
In Norway This Summer

The Norwegian committee of the Summer School for American Students at the University of Oslo announces that four scholarships worth approximately $350 each will be made available to American and Canadian students. The awards are to be known as the Ralph Bunche Scholarships.

The scholarships will be given to students on the basis of merit by the Association of Electro-Chemical and Electro-Metalurgical Industries of Norway in honor of Dr. Bunche, who was recently presented the Nobel Prize. Scholarship candidates should make application with Dean Nordstrand, Oslo Summer School for American Students, St. Olaf College, Northfield, Minn.

Application blanks may be obtained from the Oslo Summer School Admissions Office, St. Olaf College, Northfield, Minn.

Also be offered on the social, economic, and political situation in the Scandinavian countries. The family includes several men recognized throughout the world—Halvard Lange, Norwegian Minister of Foreign Affairs; Hakon Lie, secretary of the Norwegian Labor Party; Dr. Karl Swenson, organiser-general of public health; Christian S. Offedal, editor-in-chief of the "Lindesjoen Aftenblad" and Dr. Francis Bull, professor of Scandinavian literature at the University of Oslo.

Olaf Marks is selected by a special committee to be known as the Ralph Bunche Scholarships. The awards are available to American and Canadian students. The awards are to be known as the Ralph Bunche Scholarships.

following additional qualifications may apply for a commission and active duty with the Navy as a line officer or as a supply corps officer.

For line officers, students must have completed mathematics through trigonometry either in college or secondary school. For supply corps, students must have at least 45 college semester hours of credit in one or a combination of the following subjects: economics, commerce, business administration, or textile engineering, or a master's or doctorate degree in such fields.

Questionnaires are available in the Placement Office and further information may be obtained from Carol Owen of that office.

Tomorrow morning at 8 a.m., apply.

Owls Card Two Intrasquad Games as Spiraling Ends

The Rice Owls will play two full-fledged intrasquad football games for the public on the next two weekends as part of the current spring training session, it has been announced by athletic director and head football coach, Jess Neely. The first "Blue vs. Gray" game will be tomorrow night at 8 p.m. The second game will be on Saturday afternoon, March 10, at 2 p.m.

Both games are slated for the campus. Admission at both games will be 60 cents, with children under 12 years of age admitted free. It gives Rice fans a chance to look over the biggest crop of newcomers to the Owl varsity in many years. There are some forty boy prospects up from the Rice freshmen team making strong bids for positions on the varsity in competition with fifteen returning lettermen and some fifteen squadrons.

The additional game is slated to provide an opportunity for a night spring contest for the benefit of those who cannot attend the annual Saturday afternoon finale to the spring drills, which this year comes on March 10.

Since the Rice squad of this spring is shorter on experience but heavier on manpower than usual, there is a wide open battle for most first string positions. Performances tomorrow night and the afternoon of March 10 may have an important bearing on starting roles for next fall — with the fans having a chance to sit in on the competition.

about that particular volume of the Thresher, which have been clouded in your mind. A great number of 1948-49 readers may have obtained that the majority of the 1948-49 readers have been strong objections to the tendency of the paper to provide more coverage of national elections, labor disputes and other wide issues than of campus affairs. Now the trend seems to have reached another extreme, and we have received just as strong an objection from you as was previously voiced from the opposite camp.

We may assume, I am sure you will agree, that it is impossible to publish a campus newspaper which will meet with approval from every corner of the campus. Therefore, sir, it remains my task to determine whether or not you represent the majority opinion. Until this time, we have been informed by several sources that we are pleasing more readers than has been the case in some previous years. Perhaps we are wrong, and you have obtained a better idea of what the students want than we. If this is the case, the members of the Thresher staff will be delighted to hear of their failings. Therefore we suggest, Mr. Miller, that your fellow members of the opposition party organize a verbal revolution, and we will do our best to establish a satisfactory bicameral policy in regard to your newspaper. The door of the Thresher office has always been open to any one with a justifiable complaint.

Sincerely,
Rudy Rice, Editor
