New Draft Tests Set For December, April

Sixty-three per cent of the 330,000 students who took the Selective Service College Qualification Tests last Spring and Summer made a score of 70 or better, Major General Lewis H. Hershey, director of Selective Service, reported today. He said the results of the former tests would be available within a short time.

The new series of tests will be given Thursday, December 15, 1951, and Thursday, April 24, 1952, by the Educational Testing Service, Princeton, New Jersey, at more than 1,000 centers throughout the United States and its territories. The blanks may be obtained at any local office of General Hershey stressed the importance of eligible students taking the tests and indicated that those who do not have test score results in their cover sheets may have a “very difficult time indeed” in convincing their local boards that they should be deferred as students.

Applications for the April 24, 1952 test must be postmarked not later than midnight, March 10, 1952.

To be eligible to apply for the test, General Hershey pointed out, a student must: (1) Intend to request deferment as a student; (2) be satisfactorily convincing their local boards that they should be deferred as students.

TO THE EDITOR:

Today, November 3rd, the performance of "Larkspur Lotion" by Tennessee Williams was presented at this playhouse. In its transformation from stage to screen, the picture has lost none of its impact and certainly does not lack verisimilitude. Held over for an extra week at the Houston Civic Theatre, it offers a great deal of entertainment. An American in Paris.

*The Current Issue of "Time" magazine contains an article that will pay you to take a few moments off and read. It is a pretentious article. It unearths to paint a picture of a generation in a few thousand words. A picture of your generation and mine.

No Easy Task

Painting such a portrait is no easy task. "Time" admits: "E.R.A. generation has a million faces and a million voices, say is not necessarily what the generation believes and does not necessarily what it will act on... has no clear beginning or end and yet has a quality as distinct as a man's accent."

Silent Generation

"Time" dedicates its generation (ages 18-28) the "Silent Generation." We are, says "Time," grave, fatalistic, conventional, grumpy, morosely confused, secretly mellowed, expecting disappointment, seeking a faith. Sample quotes: "The individual is almost dead today... Whatever its (this younger generation's) immorality, it commits them on the whole because it enjoys them, and not because it wants to demonstrate against Victorian convention or even against the gods of things as they are."

"No Peaceful Death In Houston Music Hall"

By ALLYCE TINSEL COLE

It has come to a pretty pass when one can't even die in peace and quiet in Houston. I have watched two lovely ladies attempt to die gracefully of class in the past two years, and neither of them has been allowed to do so in a quiet, restful manner.

The two ladies were friends, and I watched as they prepared to meet their maker. The first lady was a noted ballet company..."

Now that rushing for 1951 is completed, the lists have settled down to the inevitable “follow-up” parties. When the pledges are not honoring the old members, the old members are honoring the pledges.

Combining these two ideas, the SLLS had a bridge party for all members on Sunday, November 4 at the home of Margaret Hilton. The SLLS do desire that every member in the form of Kathy Leun who made her appearance on Thursday, October 28 as the daughter of Dore and Frank Allen.

On Friday, November 1, Mrs. Arnold and Mrs. Dunas, alumnae of the PALS, entertained the present members with a tea at the home of Mrs. Arnold. A luncheon was given by the pledges for the older PALS on Wednesday, November 7, at the River Oaks Country Club. The SLLS honored their pledges with a luncheon at the Briar Club on Tuesday, October 30.

Rounding off the week’s events, the VCLS enjoyed a buffet supper at the home of Marilyn McCoy.

Students in college football are now back of one Wilbanks Smith, the Aggie outstanding defensive tackle.

Two developments last week highlighted the national scene, at least from one aspect. Namely, the sordid aspect.

Drake beat Great Lakes, 35-12, behind the outstanding performance of one Johnny Bright, Drake's man under Bright played with his broken jaw encased in a special mask.

Both principals in one of the most notorious incidents in college football are now back in action. And probably the incident is because his action was not bad in itself — it is getting caught with a camera that is the sin.

Here is a case with so many ramifications that, to let it pass, college football allows its foundations to be undermined. There have been rumors concerning the large amount of gambling that was tied up with the game, and even gambling on when Bright would have the game. These are rumors; but, coupled with an attitude of indifference, they become sordid half truths that were neither proved or disproved.

Encourages Such Action

To allow Wilbanks Smith to get away with his action is to encourage, rather than discourage such action. The thought comes that the reason Mr. Smith is still playing is because his action was not bad in itself — it is getting caught with a camera that is the sin.

But, this is the Missouri Valley Conference's baby. But, because my faith (for one) in the inherent fairness of collegiate athletics, I feel that something drastic should have been done — and immediately.

To let the incident die down, to let Smith continue to play collegiate football — these things tend to destroy a faltering admiration of collegiate sports.

Magnetic Field

Before reaching the target the particles are directed through a magnetic field. This field permits only those particles traveling at the proper speed to reach the target. When they reach the target nuclear disintegration takes place.

To cause any change, a particle must strike the nucleus of a target atom. When this occurs there is a release of energy and possibly a transmutation from one element to another.

Owls Must Win Tomorrow

- To Keep Flag Hopes Alive
  By DICK KARIG

The revitalized Arkansas Razorbacks invade Owl territory to take on the Big Blue tomorrow night as the Southwest Conference continues its topsy-turvy ways. Because the conference is still wide open and no one can be counted out yet, this will be crucial game for both elevens.

It appears that the Otis-Douglas-inspired Philadelphia Eagle type of play has finally come into its own. After last season's disappointing Parker team could manage only two victories, pre-season dopesters pegged them for the sixth slot in this year's loop play. Now it is a razorback of a different color.

Arkansas opened the current campaign with two impressive victories over two unimpressed opponents. Following that they were humbled by TCU and Baylor on successive Saturdays before hitting their present amazing stride.

Following the "Beat Texas" proclamation issued by the governor of Arkansas, the Hogs proceeded to accomplish said deed, and forced the sports world to sit up and take notice. To prove that it wasn't just an accident, last week they powered their way to a 33-21 victory over A&M. Sandwiched between those two contests was an intersectional loss to Santa Clara.

Probably the greatest single factor that has enabled the Razorbacks to rise from the depths, is sophomore triple-threater Lamar McHan. Unheralded in pre-season write-ups, McHan replaced the injured Jim Rinehart at the man-under position and provided the spark that the Douglas split-T needed. Last week (Continued on Page 6)

60-Minute Men Rout Potentates, Win League Crown

The red-hot 60-Minute Men routed the Potentates 26-0 to win the D League Championship last Friday. The first Minute-Man score came on an interception and a 35-yard gallop by John Meyers. McMillan passed to Meyers for the extra point. The next score came on a play good for 20 yards, a toss from McMillan to Depenbrock. Another aerial to John Meyers from McMillan scored. McMillan to Ray Winters was good for the extra point. Winters scored again on an interception, to finish the scoring for the day. McMillan's key block (Continued on Page 6)

In the semi-final game of intramural Volleyball play the EBLS beat the SLLS to hand the Blue League the chance to work as an expert team. The SLLS showed individual spark, but failed to work as an expert team.

The final championship game between the OWLS, winners of the season, are invited. Spectators are invited.

Intramural entries for badminton

It promises to be the best game of the season. Intramural entries for badminton should be played as soon as possible. The season started. Baylor will play the late Razorback surge that fell Texas and Texas A&M. This was one of nineteen victories by Rice over Arkansas.

Bob Griffin, Guard Jim Sperring and ends Fischel and Summerhall have also been singled out for sterling defense. Not only will the Razorbacks be hungry for another conference win, but they will be seeking revenge for the 9-3 defeat that the Owls handed them last year. This was one of nineteen victories by Rice over Arkansas in the 25 game span of the series.
