Students Invited to Seventh Annual AIChE Meeting

Four technical sessions and a ban-quet are expected to attract more than 500 chemical engineers, execu-tives, and students to the Seventh Annual Technical Meeting of the American Institute of Chemical Engineers, South Texas Section. This year the meeting will be held at the Rice Hotel in Houston on October 16.

The all-day program will be pack-ed with reports and papers from experts in the chemical and petro-chemical industries on the latest developments in their respective field. The meeting will be concluded with a banquet in the Banquet Room of the Rice Hotel, Sidney D. Kirkpat-ricia, past president of the American Institute of Chemical Engineers and a member of the editorial board of “Chemical Engineering,” will speak on “Double Jeopardy.”

Charity Drive Starts Saturday;
Full Week Planned

The fifth annual Charity Drive will begin at Half-time of the Rice-SMU game tomorrow. Miss Lola Adams, eight year member of the Matilda par-ties, will crown the queen of the campus for Charities Week. In charge of these activities is Vice President Virginia Lynn. Joe Nessley started the Charity Drive by denoting the stadi-um for the academic engineered football game to be held on Saturday. The touch football of eleven man teams, played by the faculty, will be part of the weekend events on Page 6.

The Faculty was polled Tues-day to determine the question of the day. Governor Stevenson will speak tomorrow at 11:45 at the Music Hall. Any students wishing to take an active part in his recep-tion should contact Ally Cohn or leave a note in the Thresher of- fice at once.

Business at SC meeting last Tuesday began with a com-munication from a man in Red Oaks, Texas, who caught an owl with a wingspread of 50". He is willing to give it to Rice for a mascot; however, no action was taken on the report and a committee is to present the matter to the Student Council. The Treasurer reported that the Student Ann’s fund contained $457.26 and the Student Properties fund, $150.75. The committee-at-large reported that they will probably have to high school bands for our Home-coming parade as well as 15 or 14 bands from Rice organizations. The Social Chairman’s motion to enter-tain the SMU student council at a buffet on Saturday was approved, and later in the meeting a similar (Continued on Page 4).

Pogo’s Rice Schedule Changed;
Kelly Will Speak Tomorrow

“We go Pogo and we will have Pogo in spite of everything,” declared Editor Cole, speaking for the Thresher and Forum, Thursday evening. Creator of the incomparable Pogo comic strip who was unable to speak as scheduled on Thursday will speak tomorrow night in the Lecture lounge. Held on October 22, he and Miss McGeever, editor of the Rice Owl, will present a preview of the Pogo story and answer questions from the audience regarding Pogo, his art and his friends,” said Warren Thompson, Chronicle Promotion department who is handling the arrangements of Kelly visit.

Mr. Kennedy, business manager of the Cope speaking of the popular-ity of Pogo with Rice students and faculty, said that the first coop order of Pogo books was bought for the Rice students and faculty. "The second," said Kennedy, "is almost gone and we are hoping to have a new order in time for Kel-ly’s appearance.”

The modern American cartoon art-ist is sponsored jointly by Thresh-er and Forum. "The Thresher’s sponsor-ship," said Editor Cole, "is just a part of the coop’s new effort to bring an unbiased fair coverage of national polities to the student body."

This will be the Second Forum of the year.

Metzger Urges
All Rice Students to Attend Meeting

Rice’s Young Republicans Chapter will meet in the Fondren Library Exam Room Sunday at 3:00 PM. Chair-man Paul Metzger urges all old members and all other interested students to attend the meeting.

Fred Bollard has been appointed Eisenhower campaign chairman for the mon post-election. Assembly being held on October 24, the campus will be satis-fied by Forrest Ralph and Clifford Whildin. Ten members of the com-mittee will be appointed. Metzger urged all students to vote in the mon election to show that the Thresher’s support of Governor Stevenson does reflect the student body’s opinion.

Faced by Weighty Problems SC Comes Out Ahead

Want a live owl? A new parking lot? A candy machine?

All the above objects came under the consideration of the Student Council at a Tuesday meeting. The parking lot is the subject of the first, the candy machine is now in the lounge, and the owl (with a 50 in wingspread, no less) remains in the hands of the Student Council.

It appears that after several months of ignoring the plight of the students in this campus area and after a car on the campus, the administration administration had finally found the parking situation disple-asing. Last year’s parking committee

All kinds of rumors are floating over the campus this week about a miracle which is scheduled for "around October 15." For the first time in the year the directory is going to come out before Thanksgiving. The entire literary society sold ads this summer and the dirty work of actual publication was capably managed by Elaine Crossman. This may make her a minor saint in the campus hierarchy of greats of all time. After all this may never happen again.

Incidentally, the Owls even made a small profit, an unusual occurrence.

It would seem that the master printer of the Owls, England, is scheduled to make a move in November. Like all publications this Owls has had some tough breaks. So it seems they planned to use plenty of ads to keep expenses low and before they could even get started, the company went out of business.

However, unlike the other publications on campus, advertising is not a problem for this latest linotype company. Engineering firms, and alumni clubs have stepped up to get the paper into the pages. Must be nice.

In answer to many questions, the Owl doesn't seem to have been abandoned. Far from it. However, we are pleased to report that no further language memos have been heard. Maybe the entire issue won't be exploded after all. Literate us to implies any meeting or gathering which is taking in dancing, writing, or business.

No one seems to be attacked by van dias... stop sign vandalism that is. Some pulling up the signs may be a great sport but it seems to us at least that the four way stops by the Gym and others are an asset. Let's get them back up.

Two developments in the Eisenhower campaign have put an entirely new complexion on the presidential race. The first is the really astounding development of Gen. Eisenhower into too little and too late.

President Truman is trying the same technique and is finding that two can play the game. The Democratic copyright on a fighting campaign conducted on the more effective level of personalities, rather than issues, has run out.

In 1940 and in 1948, the Democratic incumbents, realizing that the election would be close, started, starting dead early and late, "both a fighting campaign usually has the effect of increasing the turnout of voters, and a big turn out is traditionally in the advantage of the Democrats."

President Truman is trying the same technique and is finding that two can play the game. The Democratic copyright on a fighting campaign conducted on the more effective level of personalities has run out. The Republicans, having the advantage, are using it to their advantage.

Unfortunately, issues have been demystified as personal conflicts. They must be simplified and personalized by the candidates if they are to get the attention of the electorate.

The second of the two remarkable developments in the phenomenal crowds that the General has been drawing are the students. Both campuses are coming to see a military hero from their own day—but the experts wrote off Truman's student-crowd support 10 years ago. On the other hand, Williams Jennings Bryan and Al Smith both got sizable student followings and lost.

The changing of the bonfire date to the night before the Texas game is logical. It will simplify the arrangements for the game, which was the purpose of the change.

The Election Committees Rules and Regulations were approved. However, the rule concerning the presentation of colored signs was not approved by the Council. The Southwest Conference enters its first full week of conference play this Saturday after the worst intersectional record in its history. Only Baylor has won all of its intersectional titles while the rest of the teams have lost 11 of 19 games. Baylor is now trying to keep the record clean by tangling Texas Tech and a lock. The conference set up is this: SMU plays Rice in Houston, A&M entangles Texas Tech at Lubbock. The conference play this Saturday after the worst intersectional record will be smeared by Rice. The Mustangs were much improved last year's 19-14 licking at Fayetteville, and will be helped by playing their home team spirit, should carry Rice to an easy victory over the conference's most proven running back in Jerry Coody, Dick Parmalee, et al. Texas

Baylor will be trying to keep its defensive play and Darrow Hooper's offensive play and rates an easy victory over the Red Raiders. The Longhorns are out to avenge last year's 15-14 lacing at Fayetteville, and will be helped by playing in Austin. Texas needs one after losing to Notre Dame and Oklahoma, but Arkansas needs it worse than it has already lost one conference game to TCU. With 1951 A.C. Conference back Lamar Moeen in return, the Texas swells on him best Gil Dawson, Dick Omm, T. J. Jones, Harley nasıl, et al. Texas 27, Arkansas 14.

Baylor vs. Texas Tech

The Bears are trying to keep their intersectional slate clean and even up the conference record at 11 wins and 11 losses, while Tech is still out to beat a SWC team after being mauled by Rice. The Red Raiders didn't show too much against the Owls, but the potential is there and they are certain to be improved this week. Baylor has produced a new quarterback in Billy Hooper, some good ends and backs the conference's most proven running backs in Jerry Coody, Dick Parmalee, Don Miller and Mike Sullivan, and rates an easy victory over the Border Conference Club. Baylor 28, Texas Tech 13.

Norman Einspruch is Best Baseball Doperster At Rice

Einspruch, fourth year engineering student, is the leading baseball doperster on the Rice campus. Einspruch walked off with the second "annual" Rice Hot-Stove League prediction contest, far outdistancing the rest of the field. Einspruch picked the first, second, and third teams correctly in both leagues and had phenomenal success with the National League, picking the correct finish for every team except the Pittsburgh Pirates and the Cincinnati Reds.

Finishing in a tie for second place were Weldon Price, Horse Hall prognosticator, and Bob Garrison, who graduated in June, Vance Lofton and Harold Lacy tied for fourth place.

Winning honors mention were F. W. Johnson and Dr. E. H. Phillips who selected six of the eight first division teams correctly but had severe trouble with the second division teams. Last year winner Norris Keeler finished far out of the "money" and winner of the "hooey" prize for the worst predictions was former Rice basketball star, Charlie

Three weeks ago this column was written over briefly the subject of intercollegial gridiron activity and how well the Southwest Conference has done in the past on this score. Now it appears that the field is clean in a different manner and 21 intercollegial contests roundly sound and blow over the loop competition. Perhaps the seven coaches have decided to concentrate on the conference titles rather than trip the intercollegial fees.

Taking another angle, perhaps the outside opposition has come up to par this season, or, maybe, this just is not the year for exceptional talent from this section of the nation.

Not one of these diagnoses has any appeal to this department, but these are given an explanation that does, however. Prior to the inauguration of the Southwest Conference, the outside opposition was one of the factors in the formation of the conference. It was agreed that for this reason, the conference would be played at a disadvantage, but that the players and men of the Southwest Conference would be such as to make the conference a first-class proposition.

The Southwest Conference is balanced, for the same reason, there is no Southwestern eleven today that can stop Rice, which has shown up to par yet this year, with any ease.

SMU looks as though it is a first class proposition, but it needs to run out of a variety of ways, and then be given by an unbalanced line, which has been playing games with several leading interference. They also have several intramural pass patterns, which will be a disadvantage in formation, and it is these plays that are liable to give the SMU trouble this Saturday.

East Texas only has come up with a few changes that may improve the team, but has lost one of the best teams in the nation last year, but also an amazing crew of freshman finds. Troups on this court were lack Alan Ames and red shirt Walter Williams.

It looks like too much sledging for the Southwest Conference for several years to come.

The Owls had not seen the last euphoria of being able to pick their squad from three participating classes rather than two. And this advantage that the outside opposition has over the conference that is in different conferences, to play in a second-class competition.
