The problem of intellectual freedom in America will receive a six-sided attack this Friday night at 8 PM in the Fondren Library Lecture Lounge, when the Rice Forum Committee presents its next program on this topic.

The American ideal of intellectual freedom has, in recent years, come to the forefront as an important question to which many answers have been proposed. All Americans agree that freedom of criticism, freedom of speech and inquiry are basic to American democracy and must be preserved against those who would use intellectual freedom to destroy the direction of Rice. This week, when Americans begin to squint and affect nonsense to maintain this ideal, there are a wide range of answers between two extremes. This week, the Rice Forum Committee, in choosing speakers for this program, has tried to gather many positions within this wide range of answers.

In the order in which they will deliver their fifteen minute talks, these six speakers will be Milked McCullough, an ex-president of the Student Senate; Mr. B. D. Beal, an Arizona professor; Mr. D. W. Holman, a Tennessee professor; Mr. J. R. Brown, a Texas professor; Mr. J. R. Rogers, a Rice student; and Mr. H. D. L. Rice, head of the Rice philosophy department.

There will be an open discussion after the prepared speeches.

The Rice Renaissance has gotten more impetus from that worthwhile organization, the Coop, than from almost any other source. The Coop, which, as the active manager of this store, has recently added a large and assorted collection of magazines to its stock. Now available for student purchase, and buying has suggested further improvement.

According to our custom, the Literary Society now in progress is a feature. The lit of an autobiography is his name for some reasons which constitutionally definite them to our society. The resolution KILLYS accepted the Thresher's suggestion and indicated the action that can be taken in this body and is the revised OC society.

The following authors reading selections are the following series: Thresher, 1978, as a personal attempt to thwart the literary supply of this popular item. The records are collected in the Music Room and available to students with the regular conditions.

The third copy of "The Rice Renaissance" appeared on campus this week and contained an added section, "The Renaissance: An Aesthetic of Our Time." Clearly, Mr. Blackmore and constructed a collection of aesthetically as well as informative magazines.

Included in this edition of the Renaissance are articles by Donald G. Hainsworth, music by J. S. Bach, and articles on the subject of the Renaissance by a number of students.

The third copy of "The Renaissance" is available in the Music Room. There is a request for approval of the project. No final action has been taken.

Sigma Tau is a member of the National Association of Colleges and Universities, and is sponsored by the Psychology Department.

"Sigma Tau's purpose is to recognize outstanding engineering students who, because of their contributions to the engineering profession, are able to perform their duties as engineering students on campus. The fraternity is open to all engineering students, regardless of field of study.

"Sigma Tau's membership is based on academic achievement. We have a request for approval of the new chapter. No final action has been taken."

"Dear Editor, in the course of my work mentioned, I should like to present the following proposition. In the first place, my task was to write a paper that would be of benefit to the school. I am more concerned with the identity of the student body that is the assumption of the data presented by a few that three girls' leaders cannot perform their duties. I believe that if I have my way, in this instance I was acting in the best interest of the school, and my action, therefore, should not be taken as a personal attack on the will of the SC.

"It is hoped that this chapter of Sigma Tau, the present chapter, with the addition of several new members, will continue to achieve the purposes set forth in the constitution of the fraternity."

Rice Owls, clash on the Rice Courts, tomorrow afternoon at 1:30 PM, in a decisive Southwest Conference match. Texas, the 22 SWC champs, will be seeking victory number six, while the Owls will attempt to add to their string of four consecutive wins.

The Rice netters blanked the Baylor Bears 6-0 at Waco on Tuesday of last week, for their second victory of the conference wars. In that match, Wayne Bennett defeated David Telford, 6-5, 6-4, and 6-2; Campton Rose beat Larry Goldbeck, 6-3, 6-1; Robin Robinson downed Chad Rogers, 6-2, 6-1; while Dale Miller outlasted John Ingelau, 6-5, 6-4.

In the doubles matches, Rose and Miller recovered to defeat Telford and Goldbeck in the number one duel, 6-5, 6-4, and Robinson and Bennett beat Rogers and Ingelau, 6-5, 6-4.

Three of Texas' Big Four netters are gone, but U. C. Pernich has come up with several impressive replacements, Julian Oates, Charlie Kinsereth and Bernard Edwards are rating, and the fourth number of last year's championship outfit, Bill Harris, has been out of action by stomach trouble.

Harris and Oates were Southwest doubles titlists for two years, and reached the semifinal round of the NCAA tourney last summer at Northwester.

Johnny Hernandez, a little sophomore from San Antonio, so far has filled the shoes of Oates quite capably. After a two-year layoff because of an automobile accident, James Saunders is back in competition. Saunders has been pressing Hernandez for the number one spot. Bill Hudson, a greatly improved reserve from last year has come up to take over the number three spot.

Tommy Springer will probably be the fourth starter.

Some of these consecutive victories, the Owls have defeated the net teams of Oklahoma, East Texas, Southwest Texas, Denver, and Texas A&M. The conference standings:

Team W L Pet.
Texas 6 0 1.000
Rice 10 2 .833
SMU 8 1 .889
A&M 2 10 .167
TCU 1 1 .167
Beaumont 6 6 .000

The Owls will attempt to add to their string of four consecutive wins.

The University of Arkansas Razorbacks defeated the Owls 6-0 in a conference golf match Thursday, and thereby climbed out of a tie for the public spot with Rice. It was the first conference victory for the Pipers, and the second defeat in two matches for the Blue Team.

Miller Barber defeated Bob's number one man, Harold Standish, 6-3, 6-3, and Jini Billingly beat Dean Small, 7-6, and 6. Barber and Billingly teamed up to whip Standish and Small in the second doubles, 8-6, 5-7.

In the other all-sail match, Tom Laney and R. G. Gee turned back Don Jackson and Larry Bryant, 6-3, 6-3. Laney beat Jackson 6-4, and Gee downed Bryant 6-3, 6-3. Laney won his 20th match of the season, breaking the course par of 70, with a score of 69.

The Owls will battle East Texas and Texas A&M on Saturday, also at Rice.

Bob Hageman and Herb Chakrey both collected two hits for the Owlet cause, to share the hitting honors. John Wolfa picked up his second victory of the campaign.

Earlier Owlet games included a walkoff victory for the Blue team over the Texas Longhorns.

The Owls will meet Texas and A&M on Wednesday afternoon before they tripped the Wharton Junior College nine, 6-3. The Owls were rated as having outstanding leadership qualifications.

Rocks is from Creneley, a town on the outskirts of Boston. The 22-pounder teamed with Don Rhoden the past two seasons to provide the Owls with two of their three three meter champions. Rice also saw some duty as an offensive tackle and defensive tackle on shore. Rhoden and tackle Bill Crockett, both all-Southwest Conference performers, served as the Owls' co-captains last fall.

Chapman, was an all-conference player last year as a defensive guard. A plug at 6-4 and 295, this 20-year-old from Waxahachie is rated for duty this fall as an offensive tackle and defensive tackle or guard. A student inside, Chap-
