The Board of Governors of the Rice Institute has adopted a program which contemplates the concentration, on the campus, of living halls to accommodate 100 women students and 355 new men students," announced Dr. Wm. V. Houston, president.

Trends In Aviation Outlined By Visiting Cornell Speaker

By Henry Johnson

One-man helicopters, vertical take-off planes, and convertiplanes were predicted to become common in the near future by Mr. T. B. Wright, Vice-President of Aeronautical Research at Cornell University. Mr. Wright spoke on "Trends in Aviation" at the first Engineering Society Meeting of the year, as part of the Alumni Hostel, which he heads.

Heavy, space-consuming electronic equipment responsible for the growth of all-weather navigation means of vertically rising rockets or jet planes for military purposes since take-off time and space are cut drastically.

The growth of air travel has been steady. Yearly increases have been almost 20 per cent. Half a billion passenger miles flown in 1953 were dwarfed by 38 billion in 1954.

Houston To Direct Scholarship Fund

Dr. William V. Houston, president, will direct a Rice $2,500,000 program of scholarships and fellowships for the improvement of southern colleges and universities. Financial aid was made available through a grant from the General Education Board, whose parent organization is the Rockefeller Foundation.

Dr. George Holmev Reiter, Dean of Rice, is one of twelve members of the General Education Board Award Committee which will administer the Rice program. The purpose of this committee is not considered as a permanent organization, for officers chosen rather as individuals for their academic background and their ability to carry out the program's purposes.

Ten of Southern universities, chartered under the laws of Texas, will receive in September 3rd this year, among its members two Texas institutions, the Rice Institute and the University of Texas, along with the University of Virginia, Duke University, the University of North Carolina, Vanderbilt University, Emory University, and Tulane. Dr. Logan Wilson, president of Texas, is presently head of the program.

Candidates for fellowships will be chosen by the Council, which has the final responsibility.

In the absence of Dr. Houston, Mr. Wright spoke on the subject of one-man helicopters, the vertical take-off planes, which the university is being worked on.

P. R. F. has been regional director of WURS for the Southwestern and Rocky Mountain areas. Since receiving his education at the University of Chicago and in England, Mr. Shute has been engaged in a variety of educational service activities, including the formation of the International Hotel, which he headed.

Two Cotton Bowl Champion Teams To Be Honored

This year's Homecoming festivities will honor Rice's Southwestern Conference and Cotton Bowl championship teams of 1954 and 1949. To correspond with alumni-sponsored ceremonies in their honor at the Vanderbilt game on October 30, campus decor- ations will also pay great tribute to these two great teams.

These decorations will be put up by classes. The senior class will decorate the area in front of the main gate, the junior area in the area before the Liberal Arts side of the library, and the sophomores, the Science room side.

Rice and Texas Tech, the tradition, the literary societies will operate booths at which the alumni may register from 10 to 12 on Homecoming morning. The booth setup this year will be:

BAND ISSUED NEW UNIFORMS

New uniforms were issued to Rice band members beginning October 1, when the bands arrived to join practice at the Cotton Bowl in Dallas. The uniform's first public appearance will be at the famed game October 30.

The conventional military style uniforms, the new mod- el feature a snugly buttoned sport coat in navy blue flan- el with patch pockets; grey trousers with a white stripe down each side; and a white and blue cap. Grey top, white shirt, and black shoes complete the outfit. Television audiences will view the band's "rock dust" late in the game. The entire section of the outfit will be the Rice band's exclusive number of the day. The section formed B.C. DRED in conjunction with the band's forming the outline of New York state. The flashboards section is under the sponsorship of A. P. O. It is preceded by Judy Fuller and John Lyle.

Another Step Forward

An early decision of the trustees of the Institute was the determination that the new university should be housed in noble architecture worthy of the founder's high aims; and upon this idea they entered with no lesser ambition than to establish on the campus of the Institute a group of buildings conspicuous alike for their beauty and for their utility. Proof that this undertaking has proved successful can easily be seen from walking by the Sailport through Aacusam to the library where it is evident that the type of the Rice campus as well as the walks and walkways combine beauty and utility making them truly admirable, and making the Rice campus one of the most beautiful in the country.

Unfortunately we had to reply that regardless of our personal feelings and regardless of the United States Constitution and the Bible, the Board of Trustees maintains that this attitude is inferior (incidentally, the inanity of this contention was adequately demonstrated on the playing field Saturday night) and we cordially express our regret that this stand should be taken at all by those that have no white tammanites.

This again must hang over our heads and say only that perhaps the day will not be far off when Rice and the State of Texas will welcome all men equally. Only then will we be able to be proud that we are part of the Rice Institute, and part of Texas.—M.M.

The Rice Players are completing the final details of the plans for their first two productions, T. S. The cast of this production has not yet been announced.

The second program will be presented Thursday, November 17, 18, and 19 at Autrey House. It will consist of two one-act plays written by contemporary playwrights: Bed-Stuy Story by Sean O’Casey and The Magic Carpet by Pat Cunningham, Miss

'54 Officers Announced For Army and Navy

By HELEN MORRIS

Col. Raffe C. Steacy of the Army Commandant's Office, announced this year's battalion Commanders and the cadets who will head the Army and Navy corps this year. The retiring Midshipman officers are at the center of this year's announcement.

The four battalion sections are being commanded by Bob Hopkins, John Kersey, and Maurice Patterson, respectively. The Battalion S-3, Major Stone Quillian of the Army corp. Paul Shank heads the Battalion as Commander and his executive officer, Major Gale E. Nevill. The Color Guard is headed by Tom Lynch and Tony Galindo of Company; Jack Washburn and Merian, and Maurice Patterson, respectively.

The Color Guard is commanded by Bill Garretti; Edward Graef, Walt Bagby, and Chip Wood are Platoon Commanders. The Color Guard is headed by Tom Lynch and Tony Galindo.

The Shamrock was the prime objective for the freshmen. They had heard rosy tales of promising classes being wired and dined by wealthy bold guests and then sent off to bed on the plush carpets of the Emerald Room. The room was shuttered upon arrival by various policemen informing them that they could either leave or spend the night in jail. It seemed that the Shamrock, unlike Rios, was becoming tired of Frosh 100.

The Banks apartments were visited by freshmen at about four in the morning, Collins and state broad were served the boys by playing Rios girls through half open windows and barred doors. Pansy rains were suggested by a few of the stout hearts, but other freshmen boys and accompanying sophomores ratified the idea.

About twelve of the frosh, estranged from the other groups, met with disaster at the hands of Mary Lou Clark and her sophomore "bimbos." These girls had been exclusive of the sophomore boys who have and the privileges of brooching the frosh all year. The girls persuaded their dates to let them take a turn at it. After the frosh were done with clothes they happened to be in. As it was a comparatively hot night, many of the freshmen seemed to feel they were not sufficiently draped to bear the streets of Houston.

This is your night on the town," Weiss Pittman, Sophomore President, cheerfully told the departing slimes. Many seemed to feel, however, that their activities were nearly limited due to their garb.

"What in Frosh 100," mumbled hundreds of sleepy freshmen, as sophomore students raised them from their dreams at two o'clock last Sunday morning for their annual laboratory in that practical course.

Froshmen soon found out, for as custom dictated, they were literally thrown from the dorms in what was probably the longest night of the school year. Will Berryman, the Third Company Commander, announced the organization of the S-4, and Robert Polweiler, and Charles Pezoldt, and Robertson, and Chip Wood are Platoon Commanders.

TO REPUBLICANS

The Young Republicans Club of Rice Institute held their first meeting last Sunday afternoon. The program consisted of four speakers from the Republican party of Harris County — the principal speaker being Bill Butler, the Republican candidate for Congress. Mr. Brown, one of the campaign managers for Mr. Butler, and Mr. Waring, another ardent Butler supporter, gave some ideas about what the Young Republicans in Rice could do to help in the general election which is coming up in November. Mr. Walley, a representative of the Young Republicans group of Harris County closed the program with some comments on the "work" of Albert Thomas as our Congressman.

Owls Face Year's Sternest Test With 'Nation's Best'

BY ALAN RINGOLD
Rice's sternest test of the season comes up Saturday when the Owls move north to take on Wisconsin. Scout Joe Davis, who watched the Badgers against Marquette and Michigan State, claims they are one of the best teams he has ever seen.

A glance at the Badger line-up shows why Davis thinks they are tops, and why the AP has rated them third in the nation. Heading into the game are: Nunamaker, the nation's leading placekicker; Davis, the nation's leading fullback; and Morris Stone, the most consistent team in the Big Ten for the past five years. They won twenty-one conference games last year, and seven, and tied four, while finishing first once and never finishing in lower than fourth.

The Owls suffered no injuries in the Cornell game, and only two players are expected to be ready to go Saturday.

All students interested in fencing, with or without previous experience, are asked to report to the gym at 7:00 PM Tuesdays.

Owls Tackle Badgers At Madison

Seven Minutes Spell Doom For 'Big Red'

BY RICE ASTON
Hungry and eager after a one week layoff, the Rice Owls came out scoring last Saturday. The first 7 minutes saw La-moline Holland intercept two passes and score one touchdown. In the same 7 minutes Dick Mogile ran 83 yards and scored two touchdowns. Thus when un-leashed on the pride of the Ivy League, the "road dogs of Main Street" scored 41 points while allowing Cornell only 42 yards on the ground all night. Rarely has such a keen desire to play football been displayed.

The Rice Fencing Team, "brought together for the first time this semester at an invitational tournament last Saturday in Galveston, planned strategy for coping with Applebaum was elected captain, putting the team under the leadership of the Brooklynites for the second straight year. Returning with Applebaum are two other lettermen, Fred Sklar and Charles Reed. This year's team will also have Ervin Cooper and Edwin Keshy, both experienced fencers, and will give coach Harold Van Buskirk an experienced core on which to build his conference aspirations.

The team has already started heavy workouts for the fencing season which begins in December.

Although we hit only four of six games last week, the THREESMEN staff's predictions average remains at a respectable .218. We missed calling the TCU-Arkansas tie by less than two minutes as the outcast but not outplayed Razorbacks intercepted a Frog pass late in the fourth quarter and converted the spark into a score. However, we did call the turn on the fast-improving A&M's upset of erstwhile Texas. We joined most of the "experts" in failing to see Dallas Morning News, does a fine job of calling of Dicky's football background and exploits but two things that cause the article to be rarer as poor. One was his pass-up of the Minges Law from this year's Cotton Bowl—a story which should be left to the record book; and the other was his theme—that of Dicky's being an athletic hypochondriac. This is absurd in the first place, and even then it's true; nothing that should be spread across a national magazine. Mr. Slive points out how Dicky spends most of his time moaning and groaning to Rice's trainer EDDY W. of J R E K about nonexistent aches and ills. This bit of "journalism" is quite unusual, as the Owl squad has been figure to be strong, has always been loaded for beef tomorrow when the Texas/UT game is played in Austin. The article is more of a joke than a story of an All-American candidate.

Prizes To Be Given ‘Best Bum and Girl’

The Bum’s Rush, the first scheduled “event” of the year will occur Saturday night at the H and H Guest Ranch. The Rally Club, sponsor of this traditional orgy, as usual will present a prize to the bums and girl most representative of the spirits of the Bum’s Rush. The prize, a high烘干，will be a week or two in alcoholism consumption, and each year the Rally Club tries to calm things down. This year, however, the Rally Club is making a special request, since they are running out of places to hold the Rush and would like to settle on one traditional spot.

This date is always one of the most popular dances of the year. It is one dance where you can count on at least as many those who attended the dance at the Light Guard Armory last year and those who won the Rush the year before really know. Bob Abrahm remembers the popularity of the Bum’s Rush as far back as 1926.

The H and H Guest Ranch is 12 miles from Houston and is rather hard to find, so be sure to take a copy of the map with you. You’ll need it especially after the dance. It is also advisable to bring your chauffeur along or keep your date sober as classes will be held Monday.

Music will be provided by a six piece band, Jackson and his Boys.

In addition to the later stages of the dance there will be a planned floor show. It will probably consist of several impromptu acts.

Admission fee, pay at the door, $2.00 couple, $1.75 stag. The dance will last from 9:30 till 12:30, and there is completely adequate space under the tables for all those wishing to attend.

H & H RANCH SCENE OF ’54 BUM’S RUSH

Shep, Jack Pardue, is coming fast at end, and yet fullback Don Kach- t is beginning to show his old form. A&M 54—U of H 20.

Baylor vs. Arkansas: Baylor has shown in the last two weeks that they are not as good as pre-season pickers thought. Arkansas, on the other hand, has done just the opposite. Budwell Waly has produced a very efficient and smooth team in the Arkansas hills and behind fullback Henry Moore and Shep tailback George Walker, the Bearersbacksa have a team capable of upsetting anyone. Baylor has had their best back, L. C. Nipper, with an injury, and Miami proved that Bobby Jones, Baylor’s Shep stand-out, is not as great on defense as he is on offense. Arkansas 20—Baylor 14.

Chairman of the Committee on Student Housing. Representing the faculty on the committee will be Dr. W. S. Bowden, Mr. G. L. Her- man, Mrs. J. E. Hodges, Mrs. Alice Margaret Koch, Miss Sarah Lane, Dr. A. D. McClintock, Mr. Jesse N cyber, Dr. J. H. Huster, Dr. John Parish, Mr. L. B. Ryan, Dr. F. E. Ulrich, and Dr. Jurg Wass.

Seven student members are to be chosen with the Student Council selecting three representatives, the Men’s Hall Committee, two; and the Women’s Council and Women’s Hall Committee, one each.

It was emphasized that the new housing facilities do not indicate a planned increase to Rice’s enrollment in the near future but rather are an attempt to meet current housing needs. With the trend toward an annual increase in the number of out-of-town students of the past few years, the campus housing situation has become acute.

At the present time there are accommodations in the dormitories and Banka apartments for less than 650 of the approximately 750 out-of-town students.

The new halls are planned to cost about $2,500 for each student housed and will probably be paid for from endowment funds.

Cost-cutting plans also includes renovation of the Commons.

Under separate study by the Memorial Committee is a Student Union Building. The Union will fit into the new housing plans as a center of campus activities for the town students.
