Sir Richard Southwell Joins Rice Mechanical Engineering Faculty

Sir Richard Southwell, outstanding British scientist and author of many works on sales and engineering, is teaching a course entitled "Applied Mechanics Seminar" at Rice this semester. This course will deal with the application of his Relaxation Methods to various phases of Applied Mechanics.

His many scientific and academic honors include being a member of L.M.E., a Fellow in the Royal Aeronautical Society and the Institute of Aeronautical Sciences, Honorary of Colleges at Oxford and Cambridge, and Engineer of the International Congress on Applied Mechanics.

His many scientific and academic honors include being a member of L.M.E., a Fellow in the Royal Aeronautical Society and the Institute of Aeronautical Sciences, Honorary of Colleges at Oxford and Cambridge, and Engineer of the International Congress on Applied Mechanics.

Other Honors
He has also been an Associate of the U.S. National Academy of Sciences, President of the International Union of Theoretical and Applied Mechanics, and president of the International Congress on Applied Mechanics, 1949-52.

Publications
His honors include an L.L.D. from St. Andrews, Glasgow; the Worcester Read Warren Medal of ASME, the James Alfred Ewing Medal of ICB, the Clayton Prize of IEM, and the U. S. Medal of Freedom.

Deadline Moved
Because of several requests, the extension on the deadline for 108, for parts in "The Boor" and "The Lot," has been chartered for 3-2 decision.

This dance will be followed by a reception for the honorees at Jones Memorial. The master minds behind this event are Henry Gissel, business manager; Tom Evans is in charge of the honors; Harry Balок is the business manager; and Tommie Lu Storm is the costume manager. Wander into the College, and the Elizabeth Bald O'Leary are the adapters; Harriet Hokanson is the business manager; and Tommie Lu Storm is the costume manager.
Les Hiboux To Present Innocently Naughty ‘Gigi’

The French Club, Les Hiboux, announce the showing of its first work of the second semester, “Gigi.”

This is a highly successful adaptation of the famous novel by Colette, and stars Danielle Delorme, Franck Villard, Yvonne de Bray, and Gaby Mosley.

It tells the story of the lively, good-hearted young girl, Gigi, who revolts against the unorthodox pattern of life led by her grandmother and great aunt and who works out her own happiness by flopping the roles of their profession.

1948 Release

Released in 1948, Gigi received very favorable reviews in the American press (“Gigi is a tickling affair, an air of innocence- naughtiness hangs over all.” — New York Times) and promises to provide an evening of delightful entertainment for members of the French Club.

It will be shown in the Pen- droy Library Lecture Lounge on Tuesday, February 15, at 8:00 pm and 7:00 pm.

TV Set Is Prize In Scuttlebutt Men-Only Contest

By SKIFFY JOHNSON

Nothing to buy . . . no box trips to send in! Just sign your name,—YOU, — Yes, you—yourself, hard-working student, you may win a glorious TV set.

Here’s the pitch! Anyone—any boy that is—for once here’s something strictly for men—can sign his name on a list in the “Scuttlebutt” located in the Baker College basement (open from 9-11 each night except Sat- urday.

You can only sign once each day. That’s it. No strings attach- ed. This is a big contest to set off the Grand Opening of the Scuttlebutt Hi-Fi Shop where all Hi-Fi equipment is at a discount to all Riceites . . . (besides, that conscience is hurting for making so much money down there).

The Hi-Fi Shop is right there in the north end of the Scutte- lbutt. The big drawing will be held on Monday, February 24. As a special attraction, that faculty genius, “Pancho” Kam-

IT'S REGRETTABLE, BUT MAN IS A VEGETABLE

A Rice professor has upset a columnist of the Portland, Oregon, Voo. This anonymous professor has said that man is vegetable! He pointed out that man and some types of seaweed have common origins and ancestry. "Sometimes a fellow may feel as low as a worm, but I don't think anybody ever felt like an onion, or a cabbage, or a coccolith," says the columnist. Not only did the Rice prof say that man is vegetable, he "gummed himself in the headlines" for saying it. Just who is this radical thinker, anyway? We were not aware that Rice Institute harbored such a creature. If anyone knows the whereabouts of this professor, he should report the facts to the Thresher—and possibly to the police.

Says Health Being Ruined

One of America's leading health authorities today charged American dress designers with ruining the health and well-being of American women, as well as the morale of American men, through the recently introduced "sack" designs. "Beyond A. Wilson, founder of American Health and Silhouette Figure Form, International, largest health organization in the United States with 233 studios, declared that the new "sacks with legs" styling which premiered recently in New York, "threatens to throw dress for American women back into the 'Rearing Twenties' and American health back into the 'Dark Ages.'"

He said: "The new sack or Slouch Look is an example of annual fashion whims which twist the female figure as if it were simple molding clay. These latest styles tend to promote bad posture while their tightness around hips and legs requires unnatural walking and sitting positions. It is unnatural, unhealthy and un-American to try to change curvaceous All-American beauties into formless sacks of cloth."

Exit Line For A Flop

The annual Rice flaco—known as the Exposition—in going and we, for one, are glad to see it go.

This tired old show, which had outlived its usefulness by about two decades, featured all the departments with exhibits which looked suspiciously identical year after year. With one or two exceptions, the exhibits were usually rather run-of-the-mill.

The three-day affair annually made the Rice campus in a mess. We think that a second- or third-rate show and lent very little academic prestige to the Institute.

It was a lamentable waste of time, effort, and cash. So goodbye, Exposition, with not a single regret.

Speaking of lamentable expenditures of money, it seems to us that the Rice TV program, which appears spasmodically on KTRK-TV, could be considered "livening-up." This spectacular has aroused torrential storms of apathy from the Houston viewing audience.

The program too often degenerates into a rather awkward shuffling of scripts by Rice professors, who in the classroom can speak for hours without so much as a note card.

The TV opportunity is a great one for the advancement of Rice in the eyes of the community, but in a majority of instances it regrettably is packaged in an unappealing dull form.

We hope for brighter things in the future from Rice's portion of the cathode tube.

Reward For Missing TV

The great, glaring god of the masses—the TV set—has been missing from the lounge since last fall.

The Thresher earlier this year issued a plea for its return. Now we are ready to back up that plea with a cash reward.

We will offer a $5 reward for the first information which leads to the recovery of the missing set.

Those who may wish to contribute to a fund to reward TV may send their donations to the Thresher, Rice Institute, Houston, Texas.

It is a sad state of affairs when hoodlums—probably Rice students—can confiscate an expensive belonging to the Rice Student Body. (While we're at it, we'll give 50 cents to anyone who returns a large black ash-tray, 18 inches in diameter, which was taken from the Thresher office in October.)

Capital Idea

Among the snarl of mail that daily engulfs our mail office, we found a news release from the National Association of Manufacturers which threatens that the proposed federal grants for college scholarships may result in less support for education rather than more. The release states that entry of the federal government into higher education may cause private supporters of scholarships to ease up on their efforts.

We hope that this is not a veiled threat from the NAM, which represents a large segment of the corporations who supply a great deal of college aid today. We can see no objection to federal aid in principle; the government is as legitimate a source for scholarships as any other; and the question of states' rights should have been buried with the Civil War. In examination weeks. The views expressed are those of the student writers and do not necessarily reflect the opinion of the administration of the Rice Institute, Houston, Texas.

Men of the United States: Have you a college education? If you have, thank the nation for it. If you don't, why not? What is holding you back? Is it lack of money? If so, apply for a scholarship. If it is fear of examinations, get over it. The country is depending on you.

Graduate Wives Hold Meeting

REPORT TO THE NATION

We Want Jones To Be De-Lighted!

By FRANK DENT AND DON CONEY

Three chortling cheers for charity. The administration has created one more obstacle to young love with its joyous ups and downs... lights.

Gone are the days when the girls wondered who they were on the walk where they can see who it is. We understand that so many girls have moved their desks out on the walk where they can see to study that strollers have to detour through a secret path.

Actually three girls were injured while trying to snatch some balls to light the tombs they live in. The shots came from somewhere in the vicinity of Lovett Hall. As soon as possible all the lights are to be removed from Jones College study tombs and concave mirrors are to be substituted to gather light from the sidewalk lights and focus it on the books. (Not only will this weed out the un-mechanical-minded students but will increase concentration on the words thus improving grades and insomnia.)

This will be only a temporary arrangement until all textbooks can be printed in braille at which time only the walks will be lighted to protect the innocent.

Evolution
The administration would also weed out the un-mechanical-minded students but will increase concentration on the words thus improving grades and insomnia.

We understand that so many girls have moved their desks out on the walk where they can see to study that strollers have to detour through a secret path.

MY CLOSEST SHAVE
by Pat Flaherty

"My closest shave was at Indianapolis in 1953," says Pat Flaherty, 1956 Indianapolis winner. "The track temperature that day hit 125° and the exhaust fumes from the burning engines were being blown out the north turn at 130 mph when the fumes got me. I blacked out, hit the outside concrete fence, and skidded along for 120 feet. The car was demolished, my helmet was torn off, my safety belt broke—but I didn't break a single bone!"

Ever meet a trusting soul?

"You can’t go wrong looking for a job these days," he assures you. "Opportunities are great all over. All the good companies have about the same to offer."

Do they? A lot of not-trusting souls think otherwise. They suspect that some companies have much more to offer than others, and they want to find out which those are.

We’ll help. We want to tell you how much the Bell Telephone Companies offer in the way of advancement opportunities, training, and benefits. Professional associates and working conditions. No matter what your educational background—the arts, the sciences, business or engineering, make a date to talk with a Bell interviewer when he visits your campus. You can also get information about the careers these companies offer by reading the Bell Telephone booklet on file in your Placement Office, or by writing for "Challenge and Opportunity" to:

LUMBER JUNIORS

Pick Pat Ivy; Finals Forgotten

By MARGIE MOORE

Society Editor

Society? During finals? Never! Ricelles had their last flings at the beginning of Dead Week and have been relatively inactive since.

The Juniors donned their masks and outlandish costumes for a Masquerade Ball at the Houston Club. P.E.'s had their own separately. They raise money for their favorite students. Bobbi Bruns, Lynn Whalaker, Harold Luepke and Barbara Smith won the "Price" for the grandest costumes and Tommy Lu Storm and Hugh Barker as a couple out of the old South won the best costume award.

The four colleges presented a tremendous for a Masquerade Ball at the Houston Club. P.E.'s was "The Leisure Class".
