Ten Outstanding Seniors Announced

JIM BERNHARD, Raymond Chilton, Frank Dent, Les Greenberg, Bruce Hendrickson, Pete Huff, Harris Moore, Ginger Purtung, and Mike Reynolds.

Dr. William V. Houston, President of Rice Institute, is a member of the National Academy of Sciences.
Ewton to Study Under Fulbright

Ralph Waldo Ewton, Jr., a senior history major, has been awarded a Fulbright scholarship to study at the Eberhard Karls University in Tuebingen, Germany. Ewton, one of nine hundred American students to apply to study at the Eberhard Karls University, will be studying the history of medieval Europe. These grants are awarded upon recommendations of campus Fulbright committees and the Institute of International Education. Altogether, twenty-eight countries are included under this program for next year.

These grants have been outstanding in its consistent record of producing Fulbright scholars. Students wishing to study abroad during the 1960-61 school year should apply between May 1 and November 1, 1959.

UT Students Protest Against Victorianism, 'Oppression'

Stories of students seeking more genuine power over their own lives and campus affairs at several college papers last month.

Student leaders at University of Texas, for example, complained to administrators about what they called "Victorianism" and "oppressive" policies.

DAILY TEXAN quoted the university's vice-president and provost, Dr. Harry H. Ransom, as saying, "This may well be a campaign."

Universities may be places where students . . . students will want to assume some responsibility. It is, after all, their campus, and if so, then perhaps we should re-examine our administrative policies and perhaps accept some more responsibility."

When they do, we will know.

He urged a study to be made to determine how students could be better informed of the campus activities and the workings of the University community.

President Logan Wilson agreed this study deserves consideration, adding, "The deans might well be delighted to see students assume more responsibility."

Lyric Quartet Concert May 7

The Lyric Art Quartet will give its final concert Thursday, May 7, in Hamman Hall at 8:15 pm. The program, sponsored by the Shephard School of Music, is free to all students.

The program will include the Beethoven Razoumovsky Quartet No. 1, the Hayden Quartet in D Major, Opus 76 no. 5, and the Southwestern premier performance of the Elaisy Blackwood Quartet no. 1. Elaisy Blackwood is a young American and former Fulbright Scholar.

No More College Talks This Year

The last College Lecture, “The Idea of Form in Biology” by Dr. A. C. Enders of the Biology Department, was cancelled this week. Dr. Konstantin Kolecla, sponsor of the lecture series, said that due to the “end-of-the-year rush” no more lectures will be held this spring, but a new series will start next fall.

COMMITTEE TO CONSIDER GIVING SERVICE AWARD

The Service Award Committee of the Student Association is currently considering the possible presentation of the Rice Institute Service Award. It is presented to men and women of the student body who have been most exemplary in rendering service to the school. The award may go to Rice alumni as well as present students.

The number of awards made each year is left to the discretion of the committee. In the past as many as four awards have been made in one year although it is possible that no awards might be presented if none of the nominations submitted meet the committee's criteria for the award.

The committee consists of: The Dean, the Registrar, the Advisor to Women, the president of the Senior Class, and the vice-president and president of the Senior Class.

This year's nominees are: Jim Herrman, Bob Gontidis, Frank Dent, Lee Greenburg, Harriet Hoeksema, Jack Holten, Peter Huff, Marvin Moore, Walter Moore, and Jack Wertheimer.

The committee has announced that anyone who would like to make further suggestions for nominations may submit that person's name along with any pertinent information by bringing it to the Registrar's office. Anyone wishing to offer information supporting the case of any of the nominees is encouraged to do so. Any material of this sort should be turned in before May 6.

The recipients of this year's Student Alumnus Award (if any) will be announced at the Commencement service.

Dr. Louis Weinberg, head of the communications and network research section of Hughes Aircraft Company's research and development laboratories, will lecture on "Convolution, Matrices, and Unsolvable Network Problems" at Rice Monday, April 27, at 8 p.m. in Fondren Library Lecture Dr. Weinberg is one of 16 top scientists participating in a company-sponsored program designed to aid science and engineering education in 30 major U.S. universities by sharing information on industry's latest achievements.

Before joining Hughes in 1961, Dr. Weinberg was an instructor in electrical engineering at Massachusetts Institute of Technology and a visiting professor at the University of Southern California and Cal Tech. He received a bachelor's degree from Brooklyn College, a master's from Harvard, and a doctor of science degree from M.I.T.

ENGINEERS explore exciting frontiers at Western Electric

It guided missiles, electronic switching systems and telephones of the future sound like exciting fields to you, a career at Western Electric may be just what you're after.

Western Electric handles telephone work and defense assignments . . . and engineers are right in the thick of it. Defense projects include the Nike and Terrier guided missile systems . . . advanced air, sea and land radar . . . the SAGE continental air defense system . . . DEW Line and White Alice in the Arctic. These and other defense jobs offer wide-ranging opportunities for all kinds of engineers.

In our main job as manufacturing and supply unit of the Bell System, Western Electric engineers discover an even wider range of opportunity. Here, they find a niche in such new and growing fields to electronic switching, microwave radio relay, miniaturization. They engineer the installation of telephone central offices, plan the distribution of equipment and supplies . . . and enjoy, with their defense teammates, the rewards of serving freedom in a growing career with Western Electric.

Western Electric technical fields include: mechanical, electrical, civil and industrial engineering, plus the physical sciences. By TED HERMANN

Last year when Sammy Giammalva replaced the retiring George Richey as tennis coach at Rice, it seemed probable that at least one of the most enviable college tennis coaching positions in the country. Not only did Richey become a member of one of the most stable coaching staffs in the nation, but he inherited the conference singles and doubles championships, two outstanding sophomores, and a couple of fine freshmen as well. After only one season it would be foolish to pass judgment, but with the Owls currently leading the pack in the SWC race and expected to haul down the major SWC tournament, it seems appropriate to give Giammalva credit for a job well done.

In our opinion, one of the finest contributions made to Rice and SWC tennis thus far by Giammalva was his initiation of the Collegiate Tennis Tournament held recently here in Houston. Giammalva's hard work made the tournament a moderate success in its first year, despite a late start and the fact that many interested teams were unable to attend the tournament in its first year, despite a late start and the fact that many interested teams were unable to attend

SHAMBLIN IS NEW BUSINESS MGR.

Lee S. Shamblin, Senior Vice President of the Federal Land Bank in New Orleans, is to be the new Business Manager and Assistant Secretary of The Rice Institute. He will replace the veteran C. A. Dwyer, who is resigning after serving as Business Manager for 28 years.

George R. Brown, Chairman of the Board of Trustees at Rice said the Board had persuaded Mr. Dwyer to stay on several years beyond his normal retirement age and had reluctantly accepted his resignation. Mr. Brown also said that Rice is extremely fortunate in obtaining the services of an administrator of Mr. Shamblin's stature. Mr. Shamblin will assume his new duties June 1.

1. Mr. Shamblin, 52, was born in Winnsboro, Louisiana. He began with the Federal Land Bank in New Orleans in 1931, became Secretary in 1934, Vice President and Chairman in 1941, and Senior Vice President in 1956. He served over 20 years in the Air Force during World War II and retired as a Lieutenant Colonel.

Each year an award is made to the outstanding junior in chemistry or chemical engineering. This year's award was presented at the final banquet to Clavence A. Miller, a chemical engineering major. The banquet was held at the Green Parrot Restaurant. The speakers for the evening were Dr. Sherman Shaffner, staff associate of the Humble Oil and Refining Company. He discussed a recent trip he made South America.

Gratitude

With Giammalva's continued hard work and the support of the Rice Athletic Association, the tournament is sure to develop into one of the major events of the SWC spring sports schedule. And, if Rice continues to field tennis teams comparable to this year's, perhaps into one of the major events of the finest collegiate tennis tournaments in the nation. If it does, there appears to be no reason why it shouldn't, all Rice supporters will owe the personable and well-liked Giammalva a great vote of gratitude.

Lance Bitable Position

Whereas Sammy Giammalva stepped into a developed and highly successful tennis program, the newly named Rice basketball coach, Johnny Frankie, steps into one of the least enviable positions in the SWC. For Frankie is faced with the challenge of rebuilding the Rice basketball program to the heights which it should have obtained in the past three years. But if there was ever a man who was willing to put in the long hours of work necessary to accomplish this massive rebuilding job, it appears that Johnny Frankie is the man. For the highly successful football-basketball coach of the Wharton JC Pioneers is no stranger to hard work.

Wide Experience

The choice of Frankie as head coach was probably a very wise one at this late point of the year. For by choosing Frankie the Rice Athletic Department not only obtained a successful, experienced coach, but it also obtained a coach who is familiar with the SWC and Texas high school basketball situations. The choice of an outsider this late in the recruiting season would have greatly handicapped the basketball recruiting for next year and thus delayed the return of Rice basketball one more year.

Wide Experience

Frankie's experiences are wide and varied. Since graduation from Rice in 1937, where he was a three year letterman in football and captain of the 1936 Owls, Frankie has served as basketball coach all the way from high schools up thru and including a three month tenure as head basketball coach at A&M. For the past ten seasons Frankie has been football and basketball coach at Wharton JC. In this ten year period his cage teams have won 215 while losing 100. They have won their conference championship seven times and won the National Junior College title in 1952.

2 Years At A&M

Frankie's only previous taste of SWC basketball was a three year tenure as freshman basketball coach at A&M. Frankie left A&M in 1948 and has been at Wharton JC ever since. Other than his wide experience, Frankie's main attributes appear to be his compulsion for hard work and the determination to get the same from his players. Frankie's strong and forceful character is known and respected throughout Texas by players and fans alike.

No Place But Rice

Frankie accepted the Rice job saying, "I don't believe I would have made a change to any other place in the United States but Rice." But perhaps more significant among the acceptance statements made by Frankie was: "I know it is a challenge, but I feel I can win." And to show that he was determined to succeed, Frankie scheduled an immediate recruiting trip with former coach Don Suman in an attempt to make up for the late start in recruiting.

Determined Man

Thus it is that the Rice Athletic Association has found a strong and determined man to fill a very important and difficult job. To Johnny Frankie go our best wishes for success. And to the student body and all Rice supporters goes a plug for patience, for Rome was not built in a day. And modern basketball teams are much more complicated than ancient cities.

1...TRADITIONAL RESPONSIBILITIES

As an Army officer, you're in command of men. More men than the number supervised by many civilian executives years older than yourself. To meet your command responsibilities, you employ a great many of the LEADERSHIP principles acquired in advanced R.O.T.C. training. And your executive potential develops while you gather LEADERSHIP experience. The executive ability you gain as an Army officer will be an important advantage in any civilian career. That's why employment directors often prefer men who have served as commissioned officers. Those men have already proven their capacity to handle executive responsibility.

2...TRADITIONAL REWARDS

In every organization, greater responsibilities mean greater rewards. The traditional prestige of an Army officer is matched by material advantages. A second lieutenant earns a minimum of $355.88 per month — plus substantial fringe benefits. Think you might want to marry soon after graduation? An officer's salary can make things a great deal easier for a married couple just starting out. What's more, an Army officer is entitled to take his dependents with him, wherever possible. Imagine sharing the fun of travel with your wife — in the United States or foreign countries like France, Germany or Japan.

Many more applied. Not all were accepted. In more than 200 U. S. colleges, 14,436 college sophomores met the high standards set. These students were selected to continue officer training in the advanced R.O.T.C. course. Why did each of these young men decide that he would benefit by fulfilling his military obligation as an Army officer? Here are two important reasons. Perhaps they'll help you make your decision.

Sam Denny Retires, Softball Results Recorded

By BUDDY HERZ

Next Wednesday afternoon, a legend comes to an end. For Sam Denny, the fabulous Sam Denny, a legend in his own time, will walk on the athletic field for his final inning. Sam, coach of the year in just about every major sport, will follow his idol Don Rumann to the sidelines following the Baker-TCU softball game for the inter-college title.

Outstanding Player

Our vote for the outstanding softball player goes to Larry Whitmore. Larry, who has tossed up three no-hitters during the course of the season, almost made it four as Baker knocked off Will Rice 6-2 in inter-college playoffs. Thanks to my contribution of three, Larry whiffed 11 men in the game. Gene Jones had a home run for the losers, and also took the last giving up but four hits. Whitmore gave up two.

Nada-Group Game

Yesterday afternoon in Athens, the Monday League champs, met Bear's Bandits, Thursday titlists while the Nads, that go-go-go team, took on the Group. The winner of the Nada-Group game will meet Ball Snatchers for the title this afternoon at 3:00 pm. Be there for a real great game.

Tennis Singles

In tennis singles play, Howard Meyer leads the Blue League with a 6-0 record followed by Jim Parker with a 3-0 mark. In Grey League Fine Cole fronts the league with a 5-0 record.
