THE PUBLISHED WRITINGS
OF STOCKTON AXSON

The Reading of Novels. Ibid., I, 135–37.
Shelley’s “The Triumph of Life”. Ibid., I, 209–12.
Literary Theory and Literary Practice. Ibid., II (1896–97), 169–72.
Review of Sir George Tressady, by Mrs. Humphry Ward. Ibid., II, 374–75.

¹A bibliography compiled by Professor McKillop, containing all items known to the compiler.
32 Published Writings of

After the War—What? An Address . . . at the Dinner and Reception Given by the University Club, San Francisco, to the Summer Session Faculty of the University of California, July 13, 1917. [San Francisco, 1917.]

The Symbol of Service to Mankind. National Geographic Magazine, XXXIII (1918), 375–90.

Dr. Stockton Axson’s Lectures, July 7–12, 1918. [Nashville, Tenn.: George Peabody College for Teachers, 1918.]

Stockton Axson

Published Writings of

Stockton Axson

Introduction to Ourselves: Being Poems out of the Rice Institute. Houston, 1931.

Goethe and Shakespeare. Ibid., XIX (1932), 148-68.

Washington Irving and the Knickerbocker Group. Ibid., XX (1933), 178-95.

A. D. McK.