My dear Hall Gonne,

I count it a great honor as it certainly is a great pleasure to receive from you "The Albert's Note". This is a beautiful and a noble book of which in the time to come "The Albert" will be proud. You state it, are the originator of it and it is worthy of you.

When a man is as old as I am he prays with prayers that he is remembered by friends of his younger days. That is my feeling. My eyes have worn down & my natural strength has abated. I cannot write with the same and regard of a few years ago still I hope you may be able to make out my note for I wish you to know how grateful I am

With very good wishes for the season & all seasons

I am

My dear Hall Family
Yours faithfully
Charles A. Cooper

The last letter I received from Charles Coppin, who is Editor of the Scotsman
did so much for me.
