April 24, 1921

Dear Mr. Cane,

I have written the letter twice to read through and make thinking of the words I write each time, and I don't think I really like it.

I have finished it approximately late on a Sunday afternoon after a long day's work. I am附

The Bishop of London
For its end is better than the beginning of it."

To this Ham.

I cannot only begin to read your letter.

A. J. Long,
Sir Hall Caine,

Dick Carter,

22/32 Park Road.

In

Lavoy Hotel

London