
My dear Cara.

Very busy or should have written before the attack on the book. Have not in the least affected me.

As soon as you are ready with
the play let me hear it;
and we can then talk until the play is finished. I mean if we There is nothing to add to my last letter.

I sail tomorrow fortnight.
before you can my Jack Robinson shall be home
again that is at the end of April.

And let there be such a long interval between your letters just a line to say how Things are going well here.

I am delighted I have had the pleasure of seeing you. You have been unwell, I hope you are now at present in my usual health.

W. Williams sends me his kindest regards to Mrs. Cline yourself, and I am yours sincerely,

[Signature]

Edw. Williams