ANDREW WADDELL is currently a senior at Stratford High School, from which he will be graduating as a National Merit Scholar, co-valedictorian, co-editor-in-chief of the Stratford newspaper, and concertmaster of the symphony orchestra. During his high school career, Andrew has been a member of the Region and All-State Orchestras three years in a row, a Stratford Concerto competition winner twice, and recently a winner of a Casa Argentine de Houston music scholarship.

Andrew began studying violin with Judy Offman at age six. He has been a student of Kenneth Goldsmith for the past seven years, and has also been an active member of the Shepherd School preparatory chamber music program.

This fall, Andrew will be attending Georgetown University in Washington, D.C., as a student of the School of Foreign Service, where he hopes to continue to pursue his interests in music, journalism, and international affairs.
